Farm Bill's Critics Lose House Battle

Compromise Plan's Approval Removes Adjournment Hitch

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House rammed a compromise farm bill to passage Thursday despite charges that it amounted to an "unconditional surrender" to Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson. It would cut some price supports to a 20-year low.

Approval of the measure by voice vote cracked the congressional logjam on farm legislation which has threatened to delay adjournment. The bill now goes to the Senate which either can accept the House version or insist on a conference committee to work out a compromise.

Benson said in a statement the bill "apparently assures our farmers and ranchers that legislation so vital to them will be enacted by this Congress."

Permits Support Cuts

He said it "more closely resembles the immediate and long-range needs of agriculture as set forth in January by the President."

The measure would permit supports to drop as low as 65 per cent of parity for corn next year and for rice and cotton in 1962.

In terms of parity, the new bill would permit supports for corn to be cut to the lowest level since 1939 and supports for cotton to be cut to the lowest level since 1940.

Parity is a legal yardstock for measuring a "fair" price for farmers, taking into account the prices he pays for the things he buys.

Most Supports Above 75%

The support price for cotton has not been set below 75 per cent of parity since 1940 when it was pegged at 57 per cent. Corn supports have not been set below 75 per cent of parity since 1939 when they were fixed at 69 per cent of parity.

Officials said Agriculture Department records indicated supports for rice never had been set below 75 per cent of parity.

However, the measure would stave off sharp planting reductions ordered by the administration and scheduled next year for rice and cotton growers.

Jordan Rejects UN Police Plan

Surprise Move Is Blow To U.S., British Hopes

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) Jordan jolted the U.N. Thursday by rejecting a widely supported plan to have U.N. forces safeguard Jordanian independence after British troops withdraw.

In a surprise move, Jordanian Delegate Abdel Monem Rifai told the 81-nation emergency General Assembly Jordan would not agree under any circumstances to permit either U.N. observers or U.N. military units on Jordan territory.

Jordan's position raised serious difficulties for the United States and Briain. The two big Western Powers were reported drafting a formal proposal for the Assembly putting prime emphasis on replacing their troops in Jordan and Lebanon with U.N. contingents.

"What Jordan needs and asks for," Rifai declared, "is material assistance to reinforce its own army and security forces."

Britain Hails Ike's Plan

These were the additional major developments on the second day of Middle East debate in the Assembly:

1. Britain's Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd hailed President Eisenhower's Middle East proposals as constructive and imaginative. In a mild, conciliatory speech he offered to talk privately with Arab nations on the situation in Jordan.

2. Ireland proposed the neutralization of the entire Middle East under U.N. guarantee. Foreign Minister Frank Aiken urged also recognition of the right of self-determination for all nations in the area and improvement of Arab-Israeli economic and political relations under a U.N. - sponsored treaty.

3. Australian Delegate E. Ronald Walker called for a Middle East commission to investigate and report on outside interference and subversion against countries in the area.

Jordan Assails Nasser

Rifai accused President Nasser of having designs on Jordan and of betraying King Hussein's trust after the King had sided with Nasser all the way in previous Arab agreements. He said Nasser's attitude toward Jordan now is plainly "hostility and enmity."

U.A.R. Delegate Omar Loutfi arose in the blue and gold Assembly Hall immediately to reply to the Jordanian charges.

"This is merely malicious propaganda intended at trying to justify the call on the part of Jordan for British troops now stationed in that part of the world," Loutfi declared.

He said if Jordan is unwilling to accept U.N. contingents, it must make clear whether it wants a permanent British military occupation.

The assembly adjourned until 10:30 a.m. Friday after holding both morning and afternoon sessions.

State Employes Ask Pay Boosts Of $13 Million

BALTIMORE (AP)—State employes hit the boss for wage raises totalling 13 million dollars Thursday.

In addition, they asked for 2½ million dollars to study a longevity pay plan.

The package request by the Maryland Classified Employes Assn. received in general cool reception from the Standard Salary Board.

The association would like to have the board support its drive for more pay with the governor and legislature.

The board had recommended to the 1957 legislature that state employe salaries be adjusted at a cost of 3½ million dollars.

The legislature appropriated only half a million and it will not appear in pay checks until next spring. The association wants the 1958 legislature to come up with the 3 million needed to make the new schedule retroactive to July 1.

The Standard Salary Board approved that move since it had been for it originally.

However, Chairman Russell S. Davis and two members, B. Howard Stansbury and Willard G. Rouse, opposed another across-the-board increase starting next July 1. The employes asked for an average 15 per cent raise that would cost 10 million.

Davis said he would favor instead an appropriation at the disposal of the board to pass out raises as it sees fit.

"Instead of blanket increase, there should be a fund to make adjustments according to needs," he said.

He added that "we have few vacancies in the state service than ever before and applications are coming in so fast we are two months behind in processing."

MIGs For Indonesia

JAKARTA (AP) — Eight new MIG15 jets were handed over to the Indonesian air force Thursday. They were made in Czechoslovakia.

First Marines Leave Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The first withdrawing U.S. Marines sailed out of Lebanon Thursday as troop movements in Jordan heightened fears of an imminent uprising there against King Hussein.

From 500 to 800 heavily armed reinforcements rushed into Amman, capital of Jordan, to help units of the Arab Legion and spike - helmeted police guarding public buildings.

Rumors have been spreading across the Middle East that the Jordan crisis may come to a head soon.

Britain has 3,000 troops in Jordan. They were called there by Hussein after the fall of Iraq' monarchy July 14.

The U.S. Marines sailing out of Beirut are a rifle company of the 2nd Battalion of the 2nd Marines. The rest of the battalion of 1,700 men and tons of equipment are expected to leave Friday.

Hurricane Cleo, Packing 145-Mile Winds, Located

MIAMI (UPI) — An Air Force plane found a full-blown hurricane packing 145 mile an hour winds in the South Atlantic Thursday as its predecessor, a tropical storm, lost its punch 600 miles short of the U.S. mainland.

Cleo became the first full hurricane of the season. It was found 900 miles east of the French Island of Martinique. Its center at 5 p.m. e.s.t. was pinpointed near latitude 14.6 north, longitude 48.3 west, roughly 2,400 miles east-southeast of Miami.

The San Juan, Puerto Rico, weather bureau said Cleo was moving toward the west-northwest at 17 miles per hour.

"This is a severe hurricane," the weather bureau said.

"Hurricane watch" was advised for the Windward and Leeward islands flanking the eastern edge of the Caribbean Sea.

Small craft in the islands were cautioned to remain in port.

The weather bureau said gale force winds fanned outward 200 miles to the north of Cleo's center and 100 miles in the southern semicircle. It said the storm should increase in size and intensity during the night while maintaining its present course and speed.

Cleo was no mild tropical storm like its two predecessors this season, Alma, a one-day gulf storm, and Becky, now degenerating off Florida.

Becky appeared to be dying as a tropical storm tonight. Its top winds decreased to 45 miles an hour and its center broke up.

Chiang's Sabres Down 2 MIGs

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — Aerial battles blazed for the second day over the tense Formosa Strait Thursday. Nationalist Chinese Sabrejets shot down two Communist Chinese high - speed MIG17 fighter planes and possibly destroyed a third.

The dogfight at high noon touched off a surface battle in the strait below when Nationalist and Communist gunboats raced to pick up a Communist pilot who had bailed out. Seven Communist gunboats opened fire on the the Nationalist vessels, which fired back and sank one.

The Communist gunboats succeeded in picking up the pilot, however.

A U.S. Navy escort destroyer saw two of the supersonic, Russian-built MIGs plunge in flames into the ocean just off the China coast, Nationalist air force headquarters announced.

A third MIG was missing from its flight formation when the Communist planes sped back over the Communist China mainland.

Hoffa Union Tactics, Torch Death Linked

'Pattern' Of Arson, Threats Charged By Racket Probers

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Senate rackets investigators accused James R. Hoffa's giant Teamster Union Thursday of a "pattern" of arson and other terror tactics which might explain the recent "human torch" death of a union official in Michigan.

Committee chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) made the comment after the group heard testimony that teamster elements financed by Hoffa's own Detroit local supported a violence-marked hotel workers' strike in Indianapolis in 1955-56.

Arson And Threats

Several witnesses gave accounts of arson, dynamiting attempts, threats and a beating in the Indianapolis dispute as Hoffa made his fifth appearance in the witness chair in two weeks.

Hoffa testified that his Detroit Local 299 gave destitute sister Local 135 in Indianapolis $125,000 in 1954 to keep employers from "taking advantage of it" and to give it "stability in the community."

Gene San Soucie, president of 135, was described in other testimony as having offered to settle the Indianapolis hotel strike in December, 1955, and end the violence if the employer involved would force all his workers to sign union cards.

Hoffa Loaned $8,000

Hoffa also said he loaned $8,000 from his own resources in 1954 to David Probstein, operator of the State Cab Co., in Indianapolis, on Sam Soucie's recommendation. Probstein vanished in 1955 under what have been called "mysterious circumstances."

After Hoffa told about the financial transactions, committee chief counsel Robert F. Kennedy called other witnesses to tell about the hotel strike and how it was run by Gus Zapas, a bartenders' union official with a long criminal record.

Kennedy said the testimony was of interest in light of the death last week of Teamsters' business agent Frank Kierdorf, of Flint, Mich.

Labor Reform Bill Shelved

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The bitterly divided House Labor Committee refused Thursday to even consider sending a labor reform bill to the House floor. But indications were the House still might get a chance to vote on the politics laden issue.

The committee defeated proposals that it take up either the Kennedy-Ives bill passed by the Senate or a tougher version introduced in the House by GOP leaders.

The twin actions all but ruled out any chance the committee would act this session. Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-N.C.) announced that the meeting probably would be the last before Congress adjourns for the year.

But still hanging fire was a reported plan by Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) to bring the Kennedy-Ives bill up for a vote next Monday. However, it would be offered under an amendment - barring procedure that would require a two-thirds vote for approval.

Both the Senate bill and the House version introduced by Rep. Carroll D. Kearns (R-Pa.) were designed to curb abuses aired by the Senate Rackets Committee.

Sub-Summit U.N. Talks Seen

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The real showdown on President Eisenhower's Mideast peace program may take place in private sub-summit talks which now appear imminent.

Increasing emphasis is being placed upon the importance of such talks as a part of the emergency U.N. General Assembly and efforts are being made to bring top diplomats of the interested countries into informal discussions.

There appears to be a general agreement, in fact, that if the Assembly is to achieve any substantial results there must first be private agreements by the key nations.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said he came to New York mindful of Dag Hammarskjold's thesis that the U.N. should be used more as an instrument of negotiation. He said he believed Eisenhower's proposals were a suitable basis for such efforts.

Lloyd went further and suggested private talks on the immediate problem of creating conditions which would permit the withdrawal of British troops from Jordan. This was similar to a suggestion made by Andrei Gromyko, the Soviet foreign minister, who said he was ready to enter into consultations with any diplomats, including Secretary of State Dulles and Lloyd, to seek a mutually acceptable formula for the withdrawal of forces from Lebanon and Jordan.

This was as far as Gromyko's offer went, but other delegations feel that private talks are needed to head off a flood of resolutions which are being shown around the corridors by a dozen different diplomats.

Mother On Ill-Fated Airliner

Joseph Hawrys, 38, waits sadly at Idlewild Airport for news of ill-fated KLM airliner on which his widowed mother, Francesca Hawryski, 68, was scheduled to arrive yesterday. She was en route from Poland to spend her last years with Joseph, a Park Avenue elevator operator. Beside him are a box of shoes and flowers he brought for his mother. U.S. Surrender Study Idea Hit By Sen. Russell

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services called on Congress Thursday to crack down on any Defense Department studies dealing with a possible U.S. surrender in any atomic war.

Russell spoke out in the midst of a furor that raged from the White House to Congress after it was disclosed that some kind of "surrender study" — or studies had been prepared at the Pentagon's request.

Russell, who said any such report would be a blow to American morale, offered an amendment to an appropriations bill to cut off funds for any study on "when and how the government of the United States should surrender this country to its enemies."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) said he hoped the Senate would approve Russell's amendment unanimously.

The White House said President Eisenhower considered the study "ridiculous" if it actually did consider the conditions under which this country might give up. The President demanded an immediate report on the incident.

The study was brought to Eisenhower's attention by Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.) at a White House legislative conference Tuesday. One GOP lawmaker who was present described the President as "Horrified" and "madder than I have seen him in all his years in the White House."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President was more curious than angry. But he said the President never would have sanctioned any such study if he had known about it.

Members of Congress of both parties agreed it was unthinkable that the United States ever would consider surrendering, especially in advance. Most took the position that the study was out of place because its very existence implied such a possibility.

Joliot-Curie, 58, Famed French Scientist, Dies

PARIS (UPI) — Professor Frederic Joliot-Curie, 58, Nobel prize-winning atomic scientist and a top member of France's Communist Party, died here Thursday night.

He underwent an operation for a stomach hemmorhage Monday and at first had shown some signs of improvement. His condition gradually had worsened.

Joliot-Curie, who won the Nobel prize for chemistry in 1935, was French atomic energy commissioner from 1946 to 1950. He was expelled from the strategic post by the government during the Korean War because of his sympathy with the Communist movement.

Since then, he had taken an increasingly active role in Communist and fellow-travelling organizations.

Joliot-Curie was born March 19, 1900, the son of Henri Joliot, a wealthy Paris merchant. At 25, he became a technical assistant of Marie Curie, one of the greatest names in modern science, who with her husband Pierre discovered radium in 1898.

The young assistant married the Curies' daughter Irene in 1926 and added the Curie to his last name.

FRB Reverses Credit Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board Thursday raised the discount rate at the San Francisco Reserve Bank from 1¾ to 2 per cent. This reverses the anti-recession policy of lowering the rate to expand credit.

The rate had been 1¾ per cent since April.

The discount rate is the interest which the reserve system charges its member banks on borrowings from the parent system. A boost in the rate has the effect of raising interests generally.

The rise reflects a feeling that the brakes need to be put on. Discount rates hit a peak of 3½ per cent in mid-August last year when the boom was drawing to an end.

Elvis Moves Body Of Mother To Home

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Pvt. Elvis Presley moved his mother's body to the family's mansion here Thursday and opened doors of his $100,000 home to friends for a last look at his "best girl friend."

Elvis's 42-year-old mother took a sudden turn for the worse before dawn, gasped for breath in her hospital room and succumbed to an apparent heart attack.

The plump Mrs. Presley, who seldom was quoted in the news but followed her son from coast to coast, was devoted to the youth who rocketed to fame as a rock 'n' roll entertainer in the space of a few years.

"She's all we lived for," Elvis sobbed when he reached the hospital room shortly after 3 a.m. c.s.t., to find his mother dead.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. c.s.t. Burial will be in Forest Hill Cemetery here.

Social Security Increase Voted By Senate Unit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Finance Committee ignored warnings Thursday and voted to fatten the pension checks of the nation's 11,300,000 Social Security recipients with a 7 per cent cost-of-living hike.

The bill, previously passed by the House, was approved by voice vote after the committee rejected, 9 to 6, a motion to eliminate proposed increases in public assistance grants which had come under sharp administration fire.

The measure now must be approved by the full Senate. It then would go back to the House which either could accept Senate changes or send it to conference to work out a compromise. However, Democratic leaders said it was sure of final congressional approval before adjournment.

The administration endorsed the 7 per cent increase in Social Security benefits—and a companion increase in taxes on workers, employers and the self - employed—to make up for rises in living costs since the last such increase in 1954.

But Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare, warned he would urge President Eisenhower to veto the bill unless Congress eliminated features calling for a hike in federal grants for public assistance to the needy aged and blind and dependent children.

The finance committee's only concession to these complaints was to limit such federal - state. payments to an average of $65 a month for adults and $30 for dependent children. The House had voted to fix a ceiling of $66 and $33 respectively.

99, Including 51 Americans, Feared Dead

Blast May Have Plunged Airliner Into Squally Sea

SHANNON, Ireland (AP) — A Dutch KLM Super Constellation carrying 99 persons—51 of them home-bound Americans — plunged mysteriously into the squally Atlantic Thursday.

There was speculation that there might have been an explosion aboard. This was fed by the fact the crew had not radioed a report of trouble.

Initial hopes that some survived faded Thursday night.

Two French trawlers recovered five bodies and several life rafts from waves pitching about the debris of the two million dollar airliner 130 miles off Ireland's west coast.

Other craft, surface and air, rushed to join the search.

There was confused and alarming talk about the cause of the disaster, the first to hit a regularly scheduled airline over the Atlantic itself since World War II.

KLM Station Manager Liam Melling said there was no question of the plane being overloaded with its 91 passengers and 8 crew members.

Four Radios Aboard

"Whatever happened, it is obvious it happened very quickly," he said. "After all, four engines and four radios do not cut out immediately."

Asked if there might have been sabotage, Melling said:

"Your guess is as good as mine."

The deputy manager of Shannon airport also emphasized no distress messages had been received.

"What happened, happened very quickly," he said.

The giant plane, on an economy flight with seats for 95 passengers, was about 90 minutes out of Shannon a trip from Amsterdam to New York when it went down before dawn.

Meeling said it evidently crashed almost immediately after making its first check call back to the Shannon airport.

In normal conditions a plane could radio if it was in trouble. Even if two of the four engines were disabled, most trans-Atlantic liners, including the Super Constellation, would be able to go on or turn back to the nearest airport.

Storm Reported In Area

The plane had headed into an area where others subsequently ran into a terrific storm. Lowering clouds darkened the sea.

The prospect that anyone had lived through the crash and then the buffeting at sea dwindled after a few optimistic reports.

A French trawler, the Gen. Leclerc, and three British Royal Air Force search planes—first on the scene — reported sighting what they believed to be signs of life. But no one had been found alive when darkness fell.

KLM officials at Amsterdam said there was little hope that any survived. A death toll of 99 would make this the worst disaster ever involving a single commercial plane.

R.A.F. officers said they planned an air search of the area for some hours despite darkness and a lowering cloud base which dipped down to 100 feet above the water in places.

Anticipation Is Replaced By Grief At N.Y. Airport

NEW YORK (UPI) —The middle-aged couple from Michigan stood bewildered in the KLM waiting room. The woman blinked back tears and her husband was helpless to comfort her.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Peter R. Miller of Plymouth, Mich. They drove out to the shiny new International Airport building Thursday morning for a family reunion with their son, Keith, 28, and their daughter-in-law Phyllis, 23, due back from three weeks in Europe.

The Millers, like a dozen other relatives in the room, had just learned that KLM Flight 607 from Amsterdam was presumed down in the Atlantic.

"All we can do is pray," Mrs. Miller said. "They tell us the planes have survival equipment."

Mrs. Miller said her son, a sports writer on the Freeport, Illinois, Journal Standard, and his wife of less than a year had visited Rome, Berlin and Bad Nauheim on a tour in which Keith was showing Phyllis places he had been stationed with the Army in Europe.

Also waiting was Clyde Kreider, a dairy farmer from Quarryville, Pa. He had come to meet his wife, Katherine, 49. The Kreiders are members of the Church of the Brethren sect in Pennsylvania and it was their son, Ken, 24, who had arranged for some 60 members of the sect to take a summer trip to Europe.

His mother went with Ken, but Kreider stayed behind. The son still is in Europe.

Mrs. Jacoba Van Van Haaster of Goshen, N. Y., came to the airport early to meet her nephew, Nicholas, 23. The boy had come to the United States as a teen-ager and just went back to marry his sweetheart, Cecilia, 20.

The newlyweds wanted to return by ship, but Cecilia's visa expires Sept. 1, so they had to take a plane—the KLM plane. Mrs. Van Haaster did not wait.

"I will learn the news by radio at home," she said.

Jordan Rejects UN Police Plan

Surprise Move Is Blow To U.S., British Hopes

State Employes Ask Pay Boosts Of $13 Million

BALTIMORE (AP)—State employes hit the boss for wage raises totalling 13 million dollars Thursday.

"Instead of blanket increase, there should be a fund to make adjustments according to needs," he said.

He added that "we have few vacancies in the state service than ever before and applications are coming in so fast we are two months behind in processing."

MIGs For Indonesia

JAKARTA (AP) — Eight new MIG15 jets were handed over to the Indonesian air force Thursday. They were made in Czechoslovakia.

Chiang's Sabres Down 2 MIGs

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — Aerial battles blazed for the second day over the tense Formosa Strait Thursday. Nationalist Chinese Sabrejets shot down two Communist Chinese high - speed MIG17 fighter planes and possibly destroyed a third.

The dogfight at high noon touched off a surface battle in the strait below when Nationalist and Communist gunboats raced to pick up a Communist pilot who had bailed out. Seven Communist gunboats opened fire on the the Nationalist vessels, which fired back and sank one.

The Communist gunboats succeeded in picking up the pilot, however.

A U.S. Navy escort destroyer saw two of the supersonic, Russian-built MIGs plunge in flames into the ocean just off the China coast, Nationalist air force headquarters announced.

A third MIG was missing from its flight formation when the Communist planes sped back over the Communist China mainland.

Hoffa Union Tactics, Torch Death Linked

'Pattern' Of Arson, Threats Charged By Racket Probers

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Senate rackets investigators accused James R. Hoffa's giant Teamster Union Thursday of a "pattern" of arson and other terror tactics which might explain the recent "human torch" death of a union official in Michigan.

Committee chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) made the comment after the group heard testimony that teamster elements financed by Hoffa's own Detroit local supported a violence-marked hotel workers' strike in Indianapolis in 1955-56.

Arson And Threats

Several witnesses gave accounts of arson, dynamiting attempts, threats and a beating in the Indianapolis dispute as Hoffa made his fifth appearance in the witness chair in two weeks.

Hoffa testified that his Detroit Local 299 gave destitute sister Local 135 in Indianapolis $125,000 in 1954 to keep employers from "taking advantage of it" and to give it "stability in the community."

Gene San Soucie, president of 135, was described in other testimony as having offered to settle the Indianapolis hotel strike in December, 1955, and end the violence if the employer involved would force all his workers to sign union cards.

Hoffa Loaned $8,000

Hoffa also said he loaned $8,000 from his own resources in 1954 to David Probstein, operator of the State Cab Co., in Indianapolis, on Sam Soucie's recommendation. Probstein vanished in 1955 under what have been called "mysterious circumstances."

After Hoffa told about the financial transactions, committee chief counsel Robert F. Kennedy called other witnesses to tell about the hotel strike and how it was run by Gus Zapas, a bartenders' union official with a long criminal record.

Kennedy said the testimony was of interest in light of the death last week of Teamsters' business agent Frank Kierdorf, of Flint, Mich.

Labor Reform Bill Shelved

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The bitterly divided House Labor Committee refused Thursday to even consider sending a labor reform bill to the House floor. But indications were the House still might get a chance to vote on the politics laden issue.

The committee defeated proposals that it take up either the Kennedy-Ives bill passed by the Senate or a tougher version introduced in the House by GOP leaders.

The twin actions all but ruled out any chance the committee would act this session. Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-N.C.) announced that the meeting probably would be the last before Congress adjourns for the year.

But still hanging fire was a reported plan by Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) to bring the Kennedy-Ives bill up for a vote next Monday. However, it would be offered under an amendment - barring procedure that would require a two-thirds vote for approval.

Both the Senate bill and the House version introduced by Rep. Carroll D. Kearns (R-Pa.) were designed to curb abuses aired by the Senate Rackets Committee.

Sub-Summit U.N. Talks Seen

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The real showdown on President Eisenhower's Mideast peace program may take place in private sub-summit talks which now appear imminent.

Increasing emphasis is being placed upon the importance of such talks as a part of the emergency U.N. General Assembly and efforts are being made to bring top diplomats of the interested countries into informal discussions.

There appears to be a general agreement, in fact, that if the Assembly is to achieve any substantial results there must first be private agreements by the key nations.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said he came to New York mindful of Dag Hammarskjold's thesis that the U.N. should be used more as an instrument of negotiation. He said he believed Eisenhower's proposals were a suitable basis for such efforts.

Lloyd went further and suggested private talks on the immediate problem of creating conditions which would permit the withdrawal of British troops from Jordan. This was similar to a suggestion made by Andrei Gromyko, the Soviet foreign minister, who said he was ready to enter into consultations with any diplomats, including Secretary of State Dulles and Lloyd, to seek a mutually acceptable formula for the withdrawal of forces from Lebanon and Jordan.

This was as far as Gromyko's offer went, but other delegations feel that private talks are needed to head off a flood of resolutions which are being shown around the corridors by a dozen different diplomats.

Mother On Ill-Fated Airliner

Joseph Hawrys, 38, waits sadly at Idlewild Airport for news of ill-fated KLM airliner on which his widowed mother, Francesca Hawryski, 68, was scheduled to arrive yesterday. She was en route from Poland to spend her last years with Joseph, a Park Avenue elevator operator. Beside him are a box of shoes and flowers he brought for his mother. The airliner, with 99 aboard, plunged into the Atlantic shortly after leaving Shannon, Ireland, on a flight from Amsterdam to New York. (AP Photofax)

U.S. Surrender Study Idea Hit By Sen. Russell

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services called on Congress Thursday to crack down on any Defense Department studies dealing with a possible U.S. surrender in any atomic war.

Russell spoke out in the midst of a furor that raged from the White House to Congress after it was disclosed that some kind of "surrender study" — or studies had been prepared at the Pentagon's request.

Russell, who said any such report would be a blow to American morale, offered an amendment to an appropriations bill to cut off funds for any study on "when and how the government of the United States should surrender this country to its enemies."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) said he hoped the Senate would approve Russell's amendment unanimously.

The White House said President Eisenhower considered the study "ridiculous" if it actually did consider the conditions under which this country might give up. The President demanded an immediate report on the incident.

The study was brought to Eisenhower's attention by Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.) at a White House legislative conference Tuesday. One GOP lawmaker who was present described the President as "Horrified" and "madder than I have seen him in all his years in the White House."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President was more curious than angry. But he said the President never would have sanctioned any such study if he had known about it.

Members of Congress of both parties agreed it was unthinkable that the United States ever would consider surrendering, especially in advance. Most took the position that the study was out of place because its very existence implied such a possibility.

Joliot-Curie, 58, Famed French Scientist, Dies

PARIS (UPI) — Professor Frederic Joliot-Curie, 58, Nobel prize-winning atomic scientist and a top member of France's Communist Party, died here Thursday night.

He underwent an operation for a stomach hemmorhage Monday and at first had shown some signs of improvement. His condition gradually had worsened.

Joliot-Curie, who won the Nobel prize for chemistry in 1935, was French atomic energy commissioner from 1946 to 1950. He was expelled from the strategic post by the government during the Korean War because of his sympathy with the Communist movement.

Since then, he had taken an increasingly active role in Communist and fellow-travelling organizations.

Joliot-Curie was born March 19, 1900, the son of Henri Joliot, a wealthy Paris merchant. At 25, he became a technical assistant of Marie Curie, one of the greatest names in modern science, who with her husband Pierre discovered radium in 1898.

The young assistant married the Curies' daughter Irene in 1926 and added the Curie to his last name.

FRB Reverses Credit Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board Thursday raised the discount rate at the San Francisco Reserve Bank from 1¾ to 2 per cent. This reverses the anti-recession policy of lowering the rate to expand credit.

The rate had been 1¾ per cent since April.

The discount rate is the interest which the reserve system charges its member banks on borrowings from the parent system. A boost in the rate has the effect of raising interests generally.

The rise reflects a feeling that the brakes need to be put on. Discount rates hit a peak of 3½ per cent in mid-August last year when the boom was drawing to an end.

Elvis Moves Body Of Mother To Home

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Pvt. Elvis Presley moved his mother's body to the family's mansion here Thursday and opened doors of his $100,000 home to friends for a last look at his "best girl friend."

Elvis's 42-year-old mother took a sudden turn for the worse before dawn, gasped for breath in her hospital room and succumbed to an apparent heart attack.

The plump Mrs. Presley, who seldom was quoted in the news but followed her son from coast to coast, was devoted to the youth who rocketed to fame as a rock 'n' roll entertainer in the space of a few years.

"She's all we lived for," Elvis sobbed when he reached the hospital room shortly after 3 a.m. c.s.t., to find his mother dead.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. c.s.t. Burial will be in Forest Hill Cemetery here.

Social Security Increase Voted By Senate Unit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Finance Committee ignored warnings Thursday and voted to fatten the pension checks of the nation's 11,800,000 Social Security recipients with a 7 per cent cost-of-living hike.

The bill, previously passed by the House, was approved by voice vote after the committee rejected, 9 to 6, a motion to eliminate proposed increases in public assistance grants which had come under sharp administration fire.

The measure now must be approved by the full Senate. It then would go back to the House which either could accept Senate changes or send it to conference to work out a compromise. However, Democratic leaders said it was sure of final congressional approval before adjournment.

The administration endorsed the 7 per cent increase in Social Security benefits—and a companion increase in taxes on workers, employers and the self - employed—to make up for rises in living costs since the last such increase in 1954.

But Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare, warned he would urge President Eisenhower to veto the bill unless Congress eliminated features calling for a hike in federal grants for public assistance to the needy aged and blind and dependent children.

The finance committee's only concession to these complaints was to limit such federal - state. payments to an average of $65 a month for adults and $30 for dependent children. The House had voted to fix a ceiling of $66 and $33 respectively.

99, Including 51 Americans, Feared Dead

Blast May Have Plunged Airliner Into Squally Sea

SHANNON, Ireland (AP) — A Dutch KLM Super Constellation carrying 99 persons—51 of them home-bound Americans — plunged mysteriously into the squally Atlantic Thursday.

There was speculation that there might have been an explosion aboard. This was fed by the fact the crew had not radioed a report of trouble.

Initial hopes that some survived faded Thursday night.

Two French trawlers recovered five bodies and several life rafts from waves pitching about the debris of the two million dollar airliner 130 miles off Ireland's west coast.

Other craft, surface and air, rushed to join the search.

There was confused and alarming talk about the cause of the disaster, the first to hit a regularly scheduled airline over the Atlantic itself since World War II.

KLM Station Manager Liam Melling said there was no question of the plane being overloaded with its 91 passengers and 8 crew members.

Four Radios Aboard

"Whatever happened, it is obvious it happened very quickly," he said. "After all, four engines and four radios do not cut out immediately."

Asked if there might have been sabotage, Melling said:

"Your guess is as good as mine."

The deputy manager of Shannon airport also emphasized no distress messages had been received.

"What happened, happened very quickly," he said.

The giant plane, on an economy flight with seats for 95 passengers, was about 90 minutes out of Shannon a trip from Amsterdam to New York when it went down before dawn.

Meeling said it evidently crashed almost immediately after making its first check call back to the Shannon airport.

In normal conditions a plane could radio if it was in trouble. Even if two of the four engines were disabled, most trans-Atlantic liners, including the Super Constellation, would be able to go on or turn back to the nearest airport.

Storm Reported In Area

The plane had headed into an area where others subsequently ran into a terrific storm. Lowering clouds darkened the sea.

The prospect that anyone had lived through the crash and then the buffeting at sea dwindled after a few optimistic reports.

A French trawler, the Gen. Leclerc, and three British Royal Air Force search planes—first on the scene — reported sighting what they believed to be signs of life. But no one had been found alive when darkness fell.

KLM officials at Amsterdam said there was little hope that any survived. A death toll of 99 would make this the worst disaster ever involving a single commercial plane.

R.A.F. officers said they planned an air search of the area for some hours despite darkness and a lowering cloud base which dipped down to 100 feet above the water in places.

Anticipation Is Replaced By Grief At N.Y. Airport

NEW YORK (UPI) —The middle-aged couple from Michigan stood bewildered in the KLM waiting room. The woman blinked back tears and her husband was helpless to comfort her.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Peter R. Miller of Plymouth, Mich. They drove out to the shiny new International Airport building Thursday morning for a family reunion with their son, Keith, 28, and their daughter-in-law Phyllis, 23, due back from three weeks in Europe.

The Millers, like a dozen other relatives in the room, had just learned that KLM Flight 607 from Amsterdam was presumed down in the Atlantic.

"All we can do is pray," Mrs. Miller said. "They tell us the planes have survival equipment."

Mrs. Miller said her son, a sports writer on the Freeport, Illinois, Journal Standard, and his wife of less than a year had visited Rome, Berlin and Bad Nauheim on a tour in which Keith was showing Phyllis places he had been stationed with the Army in Europe.

Also waiting was Clyde Kreider, a dairy farmer from Quarryville, Pa. He had come to meet his wife, Katherine, 49. The Kreiders are members of the Church of the Brethren sect in Pennsylvania and it was their son, Ken, 24, who had arranged for some 60 members of the sect to take a summer trip to Europe.

His mother went with Ken, but Kreider stayed behind. The son still is in Europe.

Mrs. Jacoba Van Van Haaster of Goshen, N. Y., came to the airport early to meet her nephew, Nicholas, 23. The boy had come to the United States as a teen-ager and just went back to marry his sweetheart, Cecilia, 20.

The newlyweds wanted to return by ship, but Cecilia's visa expires Sept. 1, so they had to take a plane—the KLM plane. Mrs. Van Haaster did not wait.

"I will learn the news by radio at home," she said.

15 Lancaster-Lebanon Area Residents On Plane

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Sunned relatives and friends waited word today about the fates of 15 residents of the Lancaster-Lebanon area listed as passengers aboard the KLM airliner downed in the Atlantic.

"I don't believe it," Mrs. Thaddeus Groff, of nearby Liberty Square, said over and over. "I won't believe it until I hear some official word."

Her daughters, Joy, 24, a nurse at Coatesville Hospital and Rose, 26, a bookkeeper at the Quarryville National Bank, were on the passenger list.

"She prayed there would be no accidents," said Dale Kilheíner, 17, brother of Audrey Gale Kilheffner, 21, Elizabethtown. Audrey was another passenger.

Audrey and John Hollinger, 22, Manheim, worked to earn enough money to take the trip to Europe together. Steady daters for two years at Elizabethtown College, John and Audrey were engaged in June when they were graduated. Audrey was considering a Christmas-time wedding.

Both were members of the Church of the Brethren which sponsored the Brethren heritage tour to mark the 250th anniversary celebration in Kassel, Germany, of the church's founding.

John, captain of the Elizabethtown wrestling team, was to coach and teach at Elizabethtown High School. Audrey, secretary of the senior class, was to teach at nearby Maytown elementary school.

Leon Hummer, 28, Ephrata, was working as a typesetter in the composing room of the Lancaster New Era, when a fellow worker called his attention to an Associated Press dispatch about the plane.

That's how he learned his aunts and uncle were aboard the Dutch Superconstellation. They are Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Hummer, about 60, of Ephrata and Mrs. Maria Hummer, 60.

"Our son Tom and I went on a similar trip to Europe last year," said Mrs. Eby Esponshade, Elizabethtown. "Eby went alone this year to get even." Her husband, who was 40 years old, was director of admissions at Elizabethtown College.

The tour was popular with teachers. Elsie Armstrong, 25, Holtwood, a Martic Township school teacher, was with her cousin, Ruth Ann Armstrong, 25, also Holtwood, a secretary at Posey Iron Works, Lancaster. Miss Florence Herr, 72, Lancaster, was a retired school teacher.

Adm. Rickover's Wife Resentful Of Navy "Snub"

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover said on Thursday he would pass up launchings of two new atomic submarines. His wife was reported angry because the Navy had not asked her to christen one of the vessels.

But Rickover, who pioneered nuclear undersea craft, said merely that "I am too busy" to attend launching of the Sea Dragon at Portsmouth, N.H., Saturday and the Triton at Groton, Conn., on Tuesday.

Friction between Rickover and his Navy superiors threw off new sparks when his wife was quoted in an interview as being miffed because the Navy snubbed her in picking another officer's wife to christen the Triton. Rickover is known as the "father of atomic" submarines."

The admiral told reporters who asked about the reports that "you can't control your wife."

Mrs. Rickover was quoted as saying that the "Navy brass was out to hurt my husband for his independent and free spirit." Rickover frequently has clashed with his superiors and colleagues in his zeal to promote development of atomic submarines.

His wife was reported to have assailed "stupid windbags" in the higher navy echelons. She claimed she was deliberately bypassed in the selection of someone to christen the Triton.

Miss Adkins' New Role Is Bipartisan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Miss Bertha Adkins, long prominent in Republican political circles, stepped into a bipartisan role Thursday as Under Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Unanimously confirmed by the Senate after she testified that she planned to put politics aside, Miss Adkins held a final news conference as assistant chairman of the GOP national committee.

She resigns that post Saturday and also plans to step down as a national committeewoman from her home state of Maryland, a post she's held since 1948.

Miss Adkins said she has friends among Democrats as well as Republicans and many of them from her home town of Salisbury, Md., are coming to her swearing in ceremonies next Tuesday.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The clothing of a missing Georgetown University student has been found on a plastic raft in the Potomac River.

Police announced Thursday that a construction worker found the raft near Key Bridge here. With the clothing was a wallet bearing the name of Patrick E. McGuire and containing 10 cents.

The 22-year-old Washington resident had been reported missing by his mother. She said she had not seen him since Tuesday. She said her son, a senior at the university, was working part time in a pharmacy and usually took Tuesday off to go swimming.

Fugitive Who Fired On Trooper Seized

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation Thursday arrested a 22-year-old Virginia man accused of firing at a Maryland state trooper last April.

Carl E. Hennrich, chief FBI agent here, said the man identified as Ellery Landon Quillen, Grayson County, Va., was arrested at work in Harrisburg, Pa. He had been living with his wife, Katherine, under the name of Larry Davis.

He was seized at a window cleaning establishment where he worked, said Hennrich.

This is the story Hennrich told of Quillen's escape:

Maryland State Trooper John T. Kaiser stopped Quillen at a filling station near Berwyn, Md., the night of April 28. The trooper learned Quillen had escaped in August, 1957, from Virginia State Prison Camp No. 10, Greenville, where he was serving a 20-year term for housebreaking and automobile larceny.

Quillen resisted arrest. During the scuffle, a shot was fired and a bullet whizzed over the trooper's shoulder. Quillen escaped.

Fugitive Who Fired On Trooper Seized

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation Thursday arrested a 22-year-old Virginia man accused of firing at a Maryland state trooper last April.

Carl E. Hennrich, chief FBI agent here, said the man identified as Ellery Landon Quillen, Grayson County, Va., was arrested at work in Harrisburg, Pa. He had been living with his wife, Katherine, under the name of Larry Davis.

He was seized at a window cleaning establishment where he worked, said Hennrich.

This is the story Hennrich told of Quillen's escape:

Maryland State Trooper John T. Kaiser stopped Quillen at a filling station near Berwyn, Md., the night of April 28. The trooper learned Quillen had escaped in August, 1957, from Virginia State Prison Camp No. 10, Greenville, where he was serving a 20-year term for housebreaking and automobile larceny.

Quillen resisted arrest. During the scuffle, a shot was fired and a bullet whizzed over the trooper's shoulder. Quillen escaped.

Missing Student's Clothes Found

WASHINGTON (AP)—The clothing of a missing Georgetown University student has been found on a plastic raft in the Potomac River.

Police announced Thursday that a construction worker found the raft near Key Bridge here. With the clothing was a wallet bearing the name of Patrick E. McGuire and containing 10 cents.

The 22-year-old Washington resident had been reported missing by his mother. She said she had not seen him since Tuesday. She said her son, a senior at the university, was working part time in a pharmacy and usually took Tuesday off to go swimming.

Maryland Boy U.S. Champion Driver

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 17-year old Maryland boy tonight was named the champion teen-age automobile driver of the United States.

He is Edward Meade Smith of Silver Spring, who won a $2,000 college scholarship by scoring 905 points out of a possible 1,000 in four days of stiff competition with 50 other teen-age drivers.

Pullback Completed

TOKYO (UPI) —The Communist Korean Central News Agency said Communist China had completed the withdrawal of 100,000 "volunteer" troops from North Korea Thursday on the eve of the 13th anniversary of its "liberation" from the Japanese in World War II.

Miss Adkins' New Role Is Bipartisan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Miss Bertha Adkins, long prominent in Republican political circles, stepped into a bipartisan role Thursday as Under Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Unanimously confirmed by the Senate after she testified that she planned to put politics aside, Miss Adkins held a final news conference as assistant chairman of the GOP national committee.

She resigns that post Saturday and also plans to step down as a national committeewoman from her home state of Maryland, a post she's held since 1948.

Miss Adkins said she has friends among Democrats as well as Republicans and many of them from her home town of Salisbury, Md., are coming to her swearing in ceremonies next Tuesday.

Senate Group Approves Harbor Anti-Pollution Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Public Works Committee Thursday approved a House-passed bill designed to stop ships from dumping wastes in Maryland and Virginia harbor waters.

The bill would permit Army Engineers to patrol the waters, make periodic inspections, and to enforce more rigidly various laws protecting navigable waters.

Army Engineers now act only in connection with local pollution on specific complaint from an affected community.

The bill calls for year-round supervision. Permits would be required before ships could discharge wastes, and such dumping would be in specified areas away from commerce.

The measure extends provisions of an 1888 act relating to the New York harbor to Maryland and Virginia harbor waters.

A committee report said it is estimated the year-around supervision of the Hampton Road Waters would cost $150,000 annually.

The bill, offered by Rep. Edward J. Robeson Jr (D-Va), was amended on the floor of the House to include Baltimore harbor.

Witnesses before the House Public Works Committee said the principal problem is oil dumping. Such discharges are said to create a fire hazard and to foul ships' condensers.

Intruder Cuts Elderly Sisters With Cleaver

BALTIMORE (AP) — A man broke into the home of two elderly sisters Thursday and viciously slashed them with a meat cleaver.

Mrs. Ida Citrenbaum, a 73-year-old widow, and Miss Clara Stern, 67, were treated at Maryland General Hospital for numerous cuts on the head and upper body.

The sisters live above the household-goods store they operate. Police believe the would-be Negro thief got the meat cleaver in the kitchen behind the store.

Mrs. Citrenbaum told police she was awakened about 1:15 a.m. by a man who placed his hand over her mouth. She said she struggled with him and managed to drag him with her to a window which she broke and screamed for help.

The man ran to Miss Stern's room and she was struck with the cleaver in the mouth and chest as she tried to get out of bed.

The man then fled. He ripped a downstairs telephone from the wall but the women were able to summon police from a second floor phone.

Warrants Case

CJC President Denies Zumbrum Probe Planned

BALTIMORE (AP) — The president of the Criminal Justice Commission Thursday denied that the managing director of the group would be investigated for his part in the State Police warrants inquiry.

Gordon M. Allen, head of the privately supported agency, said it was "erroneous" to suggest that J. T. Zumbrun, managing director, will be the subject of an inquiry.

Allen explained that Zumbrun is being kept off a special committee named to stage a new probe of the State Police because he was a witness last week before a State Police board studying the case of three unserved traffic warrants.

Allen said it would be improper for Zumbrun "or any other witness to be a member of an objective examining committee."

At the same time, Baltimore attorney Hyman Pressman reassured Zumbrun of his support. He informed Zumbrun the "public would not stand for your being forced out of your position just because you are doing too good a job in behalf of law and order."

The new inquiry will follow one which started when Zumbrun announced that three State Police warrants had remained unserved for 14 months after they had been issued.

Wednesday, Allen said State Police Superintendent Elmer R. Munshower agreed to give the justice commission all the evidence gathered by a special State Police board of inquiry.

Allen said the new investigation will cover evidence and tape-recorded testimony which did not accompany the original police board report.

Previously, Allen denied that Zumbrun had been "muzzled" or "gagged" after a meeting of the commission's executive committee Tuesday. There were reports Allen had instructed Zumbrun to refuse to make any comment after the closed meeting.

The State Police board, composed of three captains, investigated the case involving Marlin S. Clevenger, then a trooper. He stopped Baltimore Contractor Sidney Sappington last May and swore out warrants charging Sappington with drunken driving, reckless driving and disorderly conduct.

The police board criticized Clevenger for alleged failure to go through official channels in handling the warrants. It also recommended dropping two of the warrants.

The third, charging Sappington with reckless driving, was served on Sappington Monday. He forfeited $26.45 collateral Wednesday by failing to appear in Magistrate Court at Annapolis to answer the charge.

The complete report by the police board has not been made public.

Allen explained that Zumbrun is being kept off a special committee named to stage a new probe of the State Police because he was a witness last week before a State Police board studying the case of three unserved traffic warrants.

Allen said it would be improper for Zumbrun "or any other witness to be a member of an objective examining committee."

At the same time, Baltimore attorney Hyman Pressman reassured Zumbrun of his support. He informed Zumbrun the "public would not stand for your being forced out of your position just because you are doing too good a job in behalf of law and order."

The new inquiry will follow one which started when Zumbrun announced that three State Police warrants had remained unserved for 14 months after they had been issued.

Wednesday, Allen said State Police Superintendent Elmer R. Munshower agreed to give the justice commission all the evidence gathered by a special State Police board of inquiry.

Allen said the new investigation will cover evidence and tape-recorded testimony which did not accompany the original police board report.

Previously, Allen denied that Zumbrun had been "muzzled" or "gagged" after a meeting of the commission's executive committee Tuesday. There were reports Allen had instructed Zumbrun to refuse to make any comment after the closed meeting.

The State Police board, composed of three captains, investigated the case involving Marlin S. Clevenger, then a trooper. He stopped Baltimore Contractor Sidney Sappington last May and swore out warrants charging Sappington with drunken driving, reckless driving and disorderly conduct.

The police board criticized Clevenger for alleged failure to go through official channels in handling the warrants. It also recommended dropping two of the warrants.

The third, charging Sappington with reckless driving, was served on Sappington Monday. He forfeited $26.45 collateral Wednesday by failing to appear in Magistrate Court at Annapolis to answer the charge.

The complete report by the police board has not been made public.

Crossing Guards May Be Eliminated

The Cumberland Police Department yesterday was faced with the major task of trying to figure out a way to operate efficiently after receiving a substantial cut in its budget.

At a session of the Mayor and Council Wednesday night the Police Department was informed its request for $284,264 had been sliced to $252,400, a difference of $31,864.

According to figures prepared by the department's heads this figure is approximately $20,000 less than it actually cost to operate the department last year.

The big question around the Police Station yesterday morning was "How are we going to do it?"

Only two major solutions are available to the problem: (1) The department's personnel could be cut or (2) the operating expenditures could be reduced.

Salaries for last year totaled $245,229.67 which subtracted from this year's appropriation would leave only $7,170.33 to operate the department.

Figures show that last year $33,210.94 was spent for operating the department.

It was learned that some members of the city government have proposed doing away with Cumberland's only policewoman and the city's 11 women who cover the crossings during the regular school term.

Last year the department spent $11,275 for the crossing guards, and during the year received numerous favorable comments concerning the women guards. Letters were received from parent-teacher associations, business associations, churches, teachers and parents thanking the Police Department for providing protection for the school children.

During the past year the department spent $1,165.69 for telephone and telegraph, $4,358.72 for policemen's equipment, $4,574.91 for gasoline and oil for police cars, $9,574.91 for auto repairs, $3,137.63 for radio maintenance, $192.45 for criminal identification, $1,393.32 for prisoners' expense, $881.74 for supplies, $251.90 for stationery and printing, $34 for advertising, and $6,258.76 for the traffic department which includes maintenance on traffic lights and the painting of streets and curbs.

If the department's officials decide to continue with the same personnel, then they will have to operate the department on $7,170.33 and this seems an impossibility.

Members of the school crossing guards conferred yesterday with Police Commissioner Philmore F. Fleming and Mayor J. Edwin Keech, with City Hall sources reporting that the meeting was called at the request of the women police when they heard rumors that the detail was to be dropped as a Police Department activity.

The group was assured by Commissioner Fleming that no definite decision had been reached on the matter, but that members of the City Council, city attorney and the chiefs of the police and fire departments had been asked to attend a meeting this morning to work something out.

Teller Quits AEC

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower Wednesday accepted the resignation of Dr. Edward Teller, so-called "father" of the H-bomb, as a member of the general advisory committee to the Atomic Energy Commision.

Teller resigned because he felt that his job as director of the University of California radiation laboratory at Livermore conflicted with membership on the advisory committee. The laboratory is under the AEC and Teller has been its director since April 1.

Market Up As Low-Priced Shares Dominate Trading

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grain futures prices closed mostly weak to easy Thursday on the Chicago Board of Trade, with heaviness in corn.

Wheat closed up ⅜ to off ½ cent; corn (old) off ⅛ to 1 cent; (new) off ⅞t o 1¼ cent; oats off ¼ to ½ rye up ¼ to off ⅛ cent; soybeans unchanged to up ½ cent.

Steady and easy tones took turns in most wheat contract business Thursday, particularly in the September delivery. Demand for deferred contracts made a fast exit after an early buying splurge. Observers believed the buying interest was triggered by the large amount of wheat put into the government loan. Hedge selling of fair volume kept the price flag lower.

Declines were noticeable in corn as commission houses sold considerable quantities of old December. Cash houses were mostly on the selling side of the new December contract. Weather reports continued favorable for corn crop development.

Prices in oats reflected the easier corn quotes, but little hedge selling struck the market.

Buying was the order of the day in most soybean futures, especially by commission houses. Prices edged slightly lower. Liquidation was noticed in the September delivery.

At outside markets, grains were mixed but mostly easy. The range:

Market Up As Low-Priced Shares Dominate Trading

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks chalked up another session on the plus side as demand for selected motor, chemical, steel and miscellaneous issues lifted prices as much as 2 points on increasee turnover.

Initial uneasiness in the face of profit-taking, increasing signs of tightening money conditions and some unfavorable earnings announcements, disappeared around mid-session.

Most sections showed at least fractional improvement and Dow-Jones averages showed industrials up 1.08 at 510.30; utilities up 0.05 at 79.29, 65 stocks up 0.13 at 175.28. Only rails dipped — 0.43 to 132.00 — as Great Northern and Louisville & Nashville lost around a point each.

A number of stocks moved in line with individual corporate developments. H. L. Green rose nearly a point on a merger announcement and Welbilt firmed on similar news. Motorola, up over a point, and Murray Corp., which held ½ point of an early wider gain, reflected favroable market letter comment. U.S. Borax and United Aircraft dropped on low earnings.

Low-priced shares dominated trading with Avco,up ¼ at 8½, American Motors, 1¼ higher at 17½, Studebaker-Packard, up ½ at 6¼; Benguet Consolidated, up ⅛ at 1¼; Loew's, up ⅝ at 18⅞, the five most active shares.

Turnover at 3,370,000 shares compared with 2,790,000 on Wednesday.

Of a total 1,172 issues traded, 526 were higher, 371 lower. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index rose 0.10 to 47.91.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grain futures prices closed mostly weak to easy Thursday on the Chicago Board of Trade, with heaviness in corn.

Wheat closed up ⅜ to off ½ cent; corn (old) off ⅛ to 1 cent; (new) off ⅛at o 1¼ cent; oats off ¼ to ½ rye up ¼ to off ⅛ cent; soybeans unchanged to up ½ cent.

Steady and easy tones took turns in most wheat contract business Thursday, particularly in the September delivery. Demand for deferred contracts made a fast exit after an early buying splurge. Observers believed the buying interest was triggered by the large amount of wheat put into the government loan. Hedge selling of fair volume kept the price flag lower.

Declines were noticeable in corn as commission houses sold considerable quantities of old December. Cash houses were mostly on the selling side of the new December contract. Weather reports continued favorable for corn crop development.

Prices in oats reflected the easier corn quotes, but little hedge selling struck the market.

Buying was the order of the day in most soybean futures, especially by commission houses. Prices edged slightly lower. Liquidation was noticed in the September delivery.

At outside markets, grains were mixed but mostly easy. The range:

Prospects Dim For Action On C&O Canal Park Bill

The prospects for final Congressional action on legislation to create a national park along the old Chesapeake and Ohio Canal were dim yesterday, although Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde said he is hopeful that the bill can be reported in time for House consideration before Congress adjourns.

A House Interior subcommittee recessed Wednesday without taking any action on the Senate-passed legislation.

During Wednesday's testimony, Conrad L. Wirth, director of the National Park Service, said he would oppose a Potomac River dam that would flood part of the proposed park.

Col. George D. Sumner, chief of the Army Engineers Corps, informed the subcommittee that he was in accord with the over-all objectives of the bill.

Asked if he would oppose such a dam even if Army Engineers showed it would be of more value to Washington area residents for a water supply than the park, Wirth said the Park Service would not be iron bound nor narrow minded.

But he added that all the facts have not been developed and that an added water supply might be obtained without building the River Bend dam.

He said the dam would flood lands for about 35 to 40 miles upstream to the vicinity of Brunswick, Md.

The proposed park would extend for about 165 miles along the Potomac. A Senate-passed bill and a pending House bill would authorize the purchase of an additional 10,000 acres for the park. The federal government already owns 4,760 acres of the canal property.

The bills would provide for construction of a scenic parkway by way of Town Hill Ridge between Maryland 51 in the vicinity of Paw Paw, W. Va. and Long Ridge road near Woodmont, Md.

PLANE INTERCEPTED

CAIRO (UPI) —The Egyptian newspaper Al Akhbar said Thursday four British R.A.F. Hunter-type planes Wednesday intercepted an Egyptian commercial airliner flying "near Cyprus" en route from Damascus to Cairo. The Egyptian plane was allowed to continue its course and reached its destination safely.

SUB FOR RESEARCH

MOSCOW (UPI) —The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said Thursday that a Soviet navy submarine had been turned over to the scientific research institute for fisheries and oceanography for research work. The submarine, now being converted into the world's first underwater laboratory, was scheduled to undergo tests at the end of the year, the newspaper said.

The Arctic tern sometimes travels more than 22 thousand miles a year between the Arctic and the Antarctic.

The flag of the United States originated in an act of the Continental Congress in Philadelphia, June 14, 1777. It was not the first flag under which colonists fought in the American War of Independence, nor did it exist in this form when the Declaration of Independence was issued.

Playground Season Will Close Today

The summer playground program of the City Recreation Department will officially close today, it was announced yesterday morning by City Recreation Director Eugene Mason.

The closing was announced following a conference with Commissioner John J. Long, under whose supervision the Recreation Department operates. Mason explained that in view of the budget established by Council Wednesday night he had no alternative but to end the playground season one week earlier than usual.

Council Wednesday night allocated $35,000 for the Recreation Department for the present fiscal year and Mason said only a minimum of money will be on hand when bills and salaries are deducted from the total.

In concurring with the recommendation for the closing of the playgrounds, Commissioner Long stated:

"The reduction in the budget from the amount expended last year, $45,150.57, to $35,000 makes it imperative that we retrench at once and accept the recreation director's recommendation because a large percentage of the $35,000 has already been contracted and expended in this summer's program since July 1.

"The irony of it to me is the fact that I was the first chairman of the first Recreation Board and have supported the recreation program from its inception to its present highly successful status, and then today it is my regrettable assignment as a member of this new council and commissioner of the department that must carry out the retrenchment of the recreation program.

"I am personally aware of the excellent job performance of Gene Mason, Mrs. (Eva) Hogan, Mrs. (Helen) Leo, John Cavanaugh and all of the employes of the Recreation Department.

"It is my sincere hope in 1958-59 that we can hold all key personnel so that they can at least give the youngsters of Cumberland a semblance of recreation that they have come to know as part of their lives, and that we as adults and parents know as training that is so important for their future as citizens of Cumberland."

The recreation director said the summer staff will be informed of the decision to close the playgrounds at a staff meeting this morning.

The entire summer staff will be dropped, Mason said, adding that the Constitution Park pool will be the only activity to be continued through the Labor Day holiday. All personnel except the lifeguard staff will be cut drastically, Mason explaining that the guards will be retained because of the safety factor.

Mason said he and Commissioner Long regretted having to wind up the playground season early, and both commended the personnel employed during the summer season for "work well done."

The recreation director said all citywide competition except baseball and softball has been completed, and that plans for ending the season in those two sports will be formulated at a meeting of ballfield leaders tomorrow. The leaders, he explained, serve as umpires for the ball games.

Beginning early next week, Mason said, a series of meetings will be held to formulate plans for a part-time winter recreation program. The adult clubs—coin, stamp and senior citizens—and ice skating are self-supporting projects, while the continuance of basketball and badminton will have to be debated, Mason said.

Playground leaders will be requested to turn in small equipment today, he continued, while the large equipment will be picked up by the department's maintenance man, beginning next week.

DEVELOP MISSILE DETECTOR

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI) — British supply minister Aubrey Jones revealed Thursday that Britain had developed a new long-distance heat detection device to counter the threat of the inter-continental ballistic missile. Jones, here on a tour of rocket experimentation sites in Australia, said the new weapon was a photocell device which could pick up infra-red radiation — heat waves—more than 1,000 miles away. He refused to reveal further details, saying discussion now was "a bit premature."

JAILED FOR LEAFLETS

WARSAW (UPI) — Jehovah's Witnesses Wladyslaw Rejdych and Antoni Kulesza were sentenced to six months in jail Thursday for printing leaflets without submitting them for approval by the state press control office. The court said it was not a "trial against religion" but only the breaking of press control regulations. The religious organization is banned in Poland.

Aid Restraint Urged By Hyde

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Dewitt S. Hyde (R-Md) said Thursday the new increase in the national debt limit should serve as a reminder of the "need of restraint in seeking and granting federal aid of all kinds."

Veterinary Medicine Scope Is Explained

The scope of veterinary medicine was explained to the Cumberland Kiwanis Club yesterday by Dr. Edwin L. Everhart, Bowling Green veterinarian, who is a member of the club.

In the United States today there are 18 schools of veterinary medicine. The oldest, at Cornell University, was founded in 1868.

The University of Georgia school of veterinary medicine from which Dr. Everhart was graduated has a regional arrangement worked out whereby students from Maryland, Virginia, North and South Carolina are accepted upon payment of the same tuition fees as Georgians. West Virginians and Kentuckians similarly are accepted at Ohio State University.

It takes six to eight years of college education to become a qualified veterinarian. His main job is to inoculate animals to keep them healthy and control disease rather than to treat sick animals, said Dr. Everhart.

W.Va. Expects Record Corn, Apple Crops

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said Thursday that despite excessive rainfall, record corn and apple crops still appear probable in West Virginia this year.

A corn crop of 8,215,000 bushels, averaging 53 bushels an acre, was predicted by the agency this year. This would be almost 2,000,000 bushels over last year's production.

The report said the apple crop was expected to reach 5,500,000 bushels, a rise of 10 per cent, or 500,000 bushels, over 1957.

The bureau agency predicted that 1958 wheat production would total 780,000 bushels, 171,000 over last year. However, oat production was expected to fall about 8 per cent below last year's crop of 1,224,000 bushels in spite of improvement last month.

Potato and tobacco crops also are expected to top 1957 figures. Potato production was predicted at 880,000,000 pounds, an 11 per cent rise, while the expected tobacco harvest is 3,520,000 pounds, up 7 per cent.

BALTIMORE (AP)—A statewide radio communications system which would cost $2,400,000 was proposed Thursday by the State Civil Defense Agency.

The State would pay half and the federal government half for the project to link Civil Defense, State Police, State Roads Commission the corps of forest rangers and amateur radio hams.

It would replace the several radio systems now in use, explained Sherley Ewing, the state's Civil Defense director.

The proposal was presented to the State Planning Commission as a capital improvements request for next fiscal year. The system would qualify for federal money as a grant-in-aid program.

The planning commission also heard a request Thursday for $400,000 in capital improvement funds for the Maryland Military Department.

Garrett Countians Named 4-H All-Stars

Two Garrett County girls were among 41 outstanding Maryland 4-H'ers chosen for membership in the All-Star group.

The All-Star group is a service organization for 4-H members who have shown service "beyond the call of duty" to 4-H. The Garrett countians named are Judy Buckel of Bittinger and Susan Bowman of McHenry. Announced earlier as representing the Allegany County 4-H organization in the All-Stars were Lois and Louis Miltenberger, RFD 1, Ridgeley.

The first steamboat traveled on Nebraska waters in 1819.

Six Jail Escapees Still At Large

WHEELING, W. Va. (UPI) — Eight prisoners who broke out of the Ohio County jail Tuesday night apparently got the hacksaw blade used in the escape from a boy who may have thrown it to them through a jail window.

Six of the escapees were still at large Thursday following the capture of two here at nearby Martins Ferry, Ohio, within six hours of the break.

Ohio County deputy sheriffs said a group of boys playing in an alley behind the jail last Friday saw the youngster who apparently passed in the hacksaw blades. They said he was tossing a sawblade into the air and catching it, and later called to persons inside the jail.

They tried to spread the alarm, telling the janitor in a nearby building "there's going to be a jailbreak," but he did not take the warning seriously.

The prisoners sawed their way out of jail four nights later, cutting through two bars and dropping 25 feet to the ground on a rope made of bedsheets. All were held either on charges of parole violation or burglary.

The boys told authorities that they were in the alley "looking for a cat" when they saw the 13-year-old walk down the alley throwing a sawblade into the air.

Veterinary Medicine Scope Is Explained

The scope of veterinary medicine was explained to the Cumberland Kiwanis Club yesterday by Dr. Edwin L. Everhart, Bowling Green veterinarian, who is a member of the club.

In the United States today there are 18 schools of veterinary medicine. The oldest, at Cornell University, was founded in 1868.

The University of Georgia school of veterinary medicine from which Dr. Everhart was graduated has a regional arrangement worked out whereby students from Maryland, Virginia, North and South Carolina are accepted upon payment of the same tuition fees as Georgians. West Virginians and Kentuckians similarly are accepted at Ohio State University.

It takes six to eight years of college education to become a qualified veterinarian. His main job is to inoculate animals to keep them healthy and control disease rather than to treat sick animals, said Dr. Everhart.

W.Va. Expects Record Corn, Apple Crops

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said Thursday that despite excessive rainfall, record corn and apple crops still appear probable in West Virginia this year.

A corn crop of 8,215,000 bushels, averaging 53 bushels an acre, was predicted by the agency this year. This would be almost 2,000,000 bushels over last year's production.

The report said the apple crop was expected to reach 5,500,000 bushels, a rise of 10 per cent, or 500,000 bushels, over 1957.

The bureau agency predicted that 1958 wheat production would total 780,000 bushels, 171,000 over last year. However, oat production was expected to fall about 8 per cent below last year's crop of 1,224,000 bushels in spite of improvement last month.

Potato and tobacco crops also are expected to top 1957 figures. Potato production was predicted at 880,000,000 pounds, an 11 per cent rise, while the expected tobacco harvest is 3,520,000 pounds, up 7 per cent.

Abuses Hurting Labor Unions

With Congress showing weakness in dealing with the problem of corrupt and arrogant labor leadership, with Teamster President James Hoffa engaged in organizing a super-union of transport workers potentially able to dominate business and the government, and with the automotive industry uncertain about the terms on which it can produce next year's cars . . . there is rising concern about the problem of controlling organized labor that is affecting more than the arch-conservatives.

Labor mediators, educators, liberal intellectuals and others are disturbed about the abuses of organized labor's power.

Clark Kerr, president of the University of California, expresses fear that the unions may be taking too much freedom from the workers.

Kermit Eby, professor of social sciences at the University of Chicago and a former CIO researcher, asserts: "Unions are failing at the point of the strongest claim for their existence: respect for human dignity."

Roscoe Pound, former Harvard Law School dean, found unions have immunities to "commit wrongs to person and property, to interfere with the use of highways, to break contracts, to deprive individuals of the means of earning a living, to control activities of individual workers and their local organizations by national organizations centrally and arbitrarily administered beyond the reach of state laws, and to misuse trust funds."

Unions are no longer weak, idealistic groups. They collect $620 million a year in dues, have pension funds running into billions. They are not entitled to immunities under the law.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Passport Question

Again, we come to the question of definition: what is a passport? Is it a card of introduction or identification? Is it a statement of national affiliation? Is it an assertion of protection?

The passport has never been a card of identification until the United States Supreme Court withheld from the Government of the United States the authority to decide to whom such a document would be granted. It was then that President Eisenhower called upon Congress to pass an act giving the Secretary of State "clear statutory authority to prevent Americans from using passports for travel to areas where there is no means of protecting them, or where their presence would conflict with our foreign-policy objectives or be inimical to the security of the United States."

Having lived in Asia many years, the passport to me has come to mean a document of protection. In fact, without it, one could not live anywhere except in a few Treaty Ports in China and even there, it was dangerous to be without such a document.

The Supreme Court's concern with the passport arises out of the Communist cases. The State Department had been withholding passports from certain Americans on the ground that it was against the interest of the Government that they should travel abroad. Some of them were suspected of being spies. Espionage is difficult to prove according to the rules of evidence. The FBI may have an enormous mass of material on a man or a woman but little of it would stand up in a court of law because the witnesses would have to be spies or former spies and their testimony in a court would imperil them. Some of the information comes from other governments and cannot be used. Some of it comes from sources which are perhaps themselves illegal, such as intercepting telephone calls or surveillances of the work of unfriendly governments.

The data has been screened and checked but if the matter has to be considered in the open court, much of it must be withheld. As Robert Johnson of the Passport Office said, even if the State Department knew that an American Communist planned to go to Moscow and to take with him important American defense secrets for delivery to Communist espionage officials, a passport could not be denied him under current Supreme Court decisions.

The Supreme Court, in the case of Rockwell Kent and Walter Briehl, held that Communism is a matter of belief and association. The court said:

". . . They are being denied their freedom of movement solely because of their refusal to be subjected to inquiry into their beliefs and associations. They do not seek to escape the law nor to violate it . . ."

This is after the Hiss Case and the Rosenberg Case, the Fuchs espionage, the cold war, and everything else that is current history. The court held that the State Department could only withhold passports in cases involving allegiance and in those involving criminal activity. Unless a spy has been caught, tried and convicted, he is not legally a spy, no matter what information the State Department, the FBI and the CIA may have and he is entitled to a passport. This applies to Communists who may be members of the propaganda divisions of the Communist Party and who may be going abroad to do harm to the United States. The State Department is precluded from going into motives and personal histories and is limited to court decisions.

That is now the law of the land and will remain the law unless Congress passes another act to give the State Department authority over passport control or until another court comes into existence.

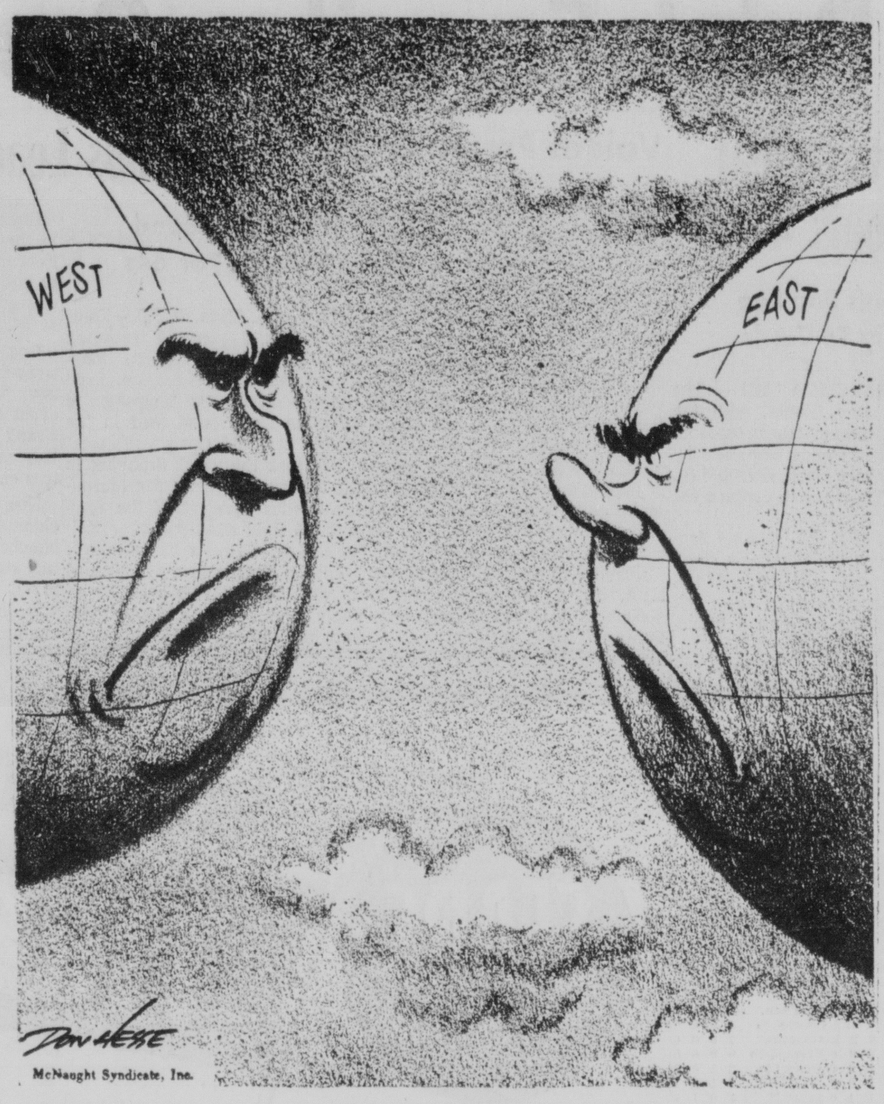

The minority of the present court said:

". . . In a wholly realistic sense there is no peace today, and there was no peace in 1952. At both times the state of national emergency declared by the President in 1950, wherein he stated that 'world conquest by Communist imperialism is the goal of the forces of aggression that have been loosed upon the world' and that 'the increasing menace of the forces of Communist aggression requires that the national defense of the United States be strengthened as speedily as possible,' was in full effect . . ."

Of course, the Supreme Court may choose to ignore a Presidential proclamation, but the court is bound by a Constitutional Act of Congress.

The Critics And America's Internal Disunity

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Critics of American foreign policy, both inside and outside of the Democratic-controlled Congress, are having a hard time being specific. They generally bemoan what seems to them a lack of "positiveness," and they even blame the President and the Secretary of State for not having a secret microphone in the Kremlin to get minute-by-minute reports of what an erratic Khrushchev plans to do throughout the world.

The tendency after every crisis is to complain either that the "intelligence" reports of the United States were not adequate or timely, or that the United States has failed homehow to checkmate Soviet moves in the world.

Partisan politics and the hope for some advantageous issue from a political standpoint undoubtedly are back of most of the criticism, especially the mimeographed speeches and statements that flow from certain quarters in and around the Democratic membership of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. The doctrine that "partisanship ends at the water's edge," an American tradition, seems to have been replaced by an attitude which says, in effect, that any criticism of the United States — even if the Soviets pick it up for their own radio broadcasts — is good sniping in the game of politics-above-patriotism.

There are, of course, some critics, inside and outside Congress, who are not trying to be partisan at all but who find themselves baffled by world events to the point where they see only American surrender and appeasement as the way out. They mistakenly believe it will prevent American involvement in war, though history tells us a sure way to get into war is to emphasize constantly your own weakness and lack of resoluteness.

The main criticism seems to center on the charge that the United States should have foreseen the way things have shaped up in the Middle East Just how is never made clear. But the idea most widely advertised is that the United States should have taken Nasser unto its bosom and loaned him billions for the Aswan Dam, even though he indicated clearly beforehand that he intended to seize the Suez Canal and secretly got arms from the Soviets.

Sometimes it is argued by the hindsight critics that the Western Allies never should have allowed the state of Israel to be created in the first place. This is a favorite gripe, particularly among some people who want to continue to do business with the Arab countries and feel that it is expedient to apologize constantly for America's interest in Israel.

There never seems to be any inclination to search the real estate titles in the Middle East and to go back far enough to discover that the people of Israel may possibly have lived there long before the modern Arab monarchies or colonies came into being. World War I took most of Asia Minor away from Turkey and enabled some new republics and monarchies among the Arabs to start up in business. But simultaneously Israel's right to existence as the Palestinian homeland was recognized in public declarations made by the Foreign Secretary of Great Britain and by the President of the United States.

The issue today isn't Israel, or Arabian supremacy, or "colonialism," handy as it may be to toss slogans around that reflect the prejudices of the interested parties. The real issue in the world today is the same as it was before World War I and before World War II. It's whether a single power — an authoritarian government and dictatorship — shall threaten the peaceful life of the free democracies or true republics of our times.

Most of the international mischief perpetrated in the Middle East, the Far East, and inside Europe, Africa and North and South America — usually called "subversion" or "infiltration" — can be traced to an espionage apparatus of worldwide proportions financed and directed by the evil men in the Kremlin.

Some of the critics want a blueprint or an affidavit to this effect signed by Khrushchev before they'll believe it, although the intelligence reports are overwhelming. Some gullible critics still doubt that Iraq or Lebanon have been victimized by the Soviet spy rings. They call it just 'a people's uprising" when the king and his family are murdered and their bodies mutilated. What kind of "Arab nationalism" is it that not only assassinates kings and prime ministers but also drags through the streets the bodies of Americans deliberately removed from their hotel and killed? Wouldn't this be more realistically described as "Arab barbarism"?

There is only one way to keep the peace in the world It would have saved us participation in two world wars. It's to build militarily a strong alliance with Western nations that believe as we do, to say again and again that force will be used to secure respect for our rights, and to mean it.

That's the only "positive policy" America can pursue — to be ready to go to the "brink of war" and let the world know it. But such a policy cannot succeed if there's internal disunity and if kibitzers deride firmness as "brinkmanship" and thus weaken the hand of their own government. Criticism is helpful always when it is constructive, and there isn't any difficulty recognizing when it is and when it isn't. Unity inside the United States and inside the Western Alliance is worth as much militarily as many divisions of troops.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Been looking into the Runyon expense account at the Democratic convention in San Francisco, B. G. Before Giants.

It is a little late for Pegler to investigate this 1920 swindlesheet. The total amount was two smackers for about three weeks.

I made a mistake citing it as walk-about money. Damon had it listed as going-about. It couldn't have meant his business at those prices.

He didn't drink so the tab must have been for the elixir of Coffee Dan's after midnight. He was good for 20 cups.

So the two dollars didn't go any further than a watchman on a wharf.

How far could you go about? It wouldn't even be ladder money in a pueblo.

And Pueblo was Damon's home town around 1900. That's when he went to Denver which was Gene Fowler's home town.

And between them I founded the historic Rufftown where canary birds sang bass.

Ragweed, Grass Pollen, Bug Dust And Hayfever

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

If you have hay fever, there may be some consolation in knowing that you are not alone. Between 7 and 8 million persons are in the same boat, and ragweed is the culprit at this time of year.

It takes time to become sensitive to pollen. One or more seasons of exposure will be needed. As a result, the disease never occurs during the first year of life but is most common in childhood and early adulthood.

In addition, several seasons pass before hay fever reaches its maximum intensity. During this time, symptoms are mistaken for a summer cold. If the condition is neglected, many hay fever sufferers develop asthma as an extra dividend.

It is reasonable to assume that hay fever is becoming more prevalent. First, because there is a strong hereditary tendency toward this disorder, we are becoming a nation of allergic individuals. Second, ragweed was not common in our original forests but flourished as land was cleared and cultivated. It is becoming prevalent in areas regarded as hay fever resorts half a century ago.

Ragweed is the No. 1 cause of hay fever today. Grass pollen is next, followed by insect dust from the soil. Each handful of soil contains thousands of disintegrated insects.

The pollen count is a good index of the concentration in the air. The hay fever sessions vary from year to year, depending upon the ragweed crop. The seeds flourish in warm wet weather and burn up when it is dry and hot. On the other hand, the count is highest during pollination when we have ample sunshine, warmth, and strong winds.

Pollen may be blown from fields 100 miles away. A good rain clears the air, which means the concentartion of the granules is lowest following a storm.

Hay fever sufferers are interested in the pollen count even though it is 24 hours old. But they don't need to see it in black and white, because a high concentration brings itching of the nose and eyes, stuffiness of the nostrils, and increased sneezing and tearing. It becomes more and more difficult to read, work, and carry on ordinary activities.

NECK LUMPS

Mrs. J. D. L. writes: Two of my children have lumps or bumps behind thte ears and down the neck. Some of my friends tell me it is foolish to take them to a physician for this but others say it is a sign of leukemia. I'm so upset I don't know what to do.

REPLY

You are responsible for your children's health, so stop taking advice from amateurs and see your physician. There is less chance than one in 100 million that both youngsters have leukemia but why lose sleep over something that can be settled in a jiffy?

TALL GIRL

A. L. writes: My 10 year old daughter is the tallest girl in her class. If she continues at this rate, she is going to be a giant. Can anything be done?

REPLY

If anything need be done, take her to an endocrinologist. He may be able to determine whether she has reached her full growth by X-raying the long bones. If she shows a potential for further growth, he may recommend hormones to curb her excessive height.

EARLY ACTING GLANDS

Mrs. D. writes: Isn't underarm odor unusual in a girl of 7?

Yes. It is a sign of precocious activity of the oil secreting (apocrinel) glands.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A character in a midtown bar attracted considerable attention the other evening by ordering 22 Martinis, and extracting from each the olive, which he carefully deposited in an empty bottle. Then he drank the 22 martinis and staggered out, clutching the bottle desperately.

"What are you guys staring at?" demanded the bartender. "He's just following his wife's orders. She told him to go out and get a bottle of martini olives."

A lady named Wottle hired a maid who loathed answering the telephone. "I've told you for the last time that you are to answer the phone when it rings," stormed Mrs. Wottle upon learning she had missed three invitations to important dinner parties.

"Yes," said the maid, unconvinced, "but I don't see no good in it. Nine times out of ten it's for you or Mr. Wottle."

Ousting Negro From 'Little Cabinet' Is Causing Complications For Ike

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — While President Eisenhower and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge are trying to woo the African-Asian bloc at the United Nations, the President and Lodge's son, George, may alienate part of the Afro-American bloc in Washington.

J. Ernest Wilkins, distinguished Negro attorney from Chicago, is being asked to resign as Assistant Secretary of Labor in order to make room for young Lodge to become Assistant Secretary.

A big fuss was made over Wilkins some years ago as the first Negro to attend a Cabinet meeting. But now he's been told by his boss, Secretary of Labor Mitchell, that he should spend all his time on the Civil Rights Commission of which he is a member and to which he was appointed as a step toward easing him out of the Labor Department.

To this Wilkins objected. He took his case direct to President Eisenhower and a pathetic scene followed during which the Negro leader wept over the idea of leaving the "Little Cabinet."

Wilkins had refused to be fired by Sherman Adams, who usually handles these matters. He argued that as Assistant Secretary of Labor, appointed direct by the President, he had a right to state his case to Ike direct.

At the session which followed, Wilkins told the President that he enjoyed his work and believed that a Negro in a top international relations position could do the United States much good with countries whose peoples are of darker skin.

Lodge And Hatch Act

Adams had told Eisenhower that Wilkins was ill and had to retire for that reason. But Wilkins told the President that he was not ill.

Ike praised the work Wilkins had done both as Chairman of the President's Committee on Government Contracts and as Assistant Secretary of Labor. But he said he was sorry he had to accept his resignation. Cabinet officers, Eisenhower explained, had a right to pick their own assistants and Secretary Mitchell had found it necessary to change various members of his official family.

Wilkins told the President that he would think about the request for his resignation. Wilkins has been considered a rather mild-mannered member of the Labor Department. Nobody expected him to hesitate over acceding to the President's request.

However, Wilkins, now 64 years old, has spent a lifetime in fighting civil rights battles and also in work for the Methodist Church. He not only objected to resigning, but some of his friends have been even more vigorous. They claim young Lodge might have trouble getting confirmed by the Senate because he was reported to have violated the Hatch Act when he accompanied Secretary Mitchell to the San Francisco Republican Convention in 1956. There he was reported to have issued press statements and called press conferences for him. As a member of civil service, Lodge is forbidden by the Hatch Act from engaging in politics.

Queried on this point, Lodge said he had acted as an aide to Secretary Mitchell while Mitchell was helping draft the labor plank in the GOP platform. Lodge said he had called press conferences merely as a clerk and had kept aloof from politics.

Lodge has been Director of the Labor Department's Public Information Bureau where he has done a good job and won friends for the Secretary of Labor. He has also been of indirect help to his chief, because his father, UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, attends Cabinet meetings and is close to Eisenhower personally.

The elder Lodge, incidentally, is being urged as the successor to Sherman Adams, when and if the latter retires. C. D. Jackson, of Time, Life, Fortune magazine empire, has been in Washington recently helping Eisenhower with Near East policy, and has especially pushed Ambassador Lodge as Adams successor. He even said he would put Lodge's picture on the front page of Time as a build-up for the job. Jackson has argued that Lodge's work as manager of Ike's 1952 campaign, plus his vigor and his knowledge of Washington gained as a senator, made his the ideal replacement for Adams.

Jackson further cautioned that it would be smart to promote young Lodge to Assistant Secretary of Labor before Ambassador Lodge was appointed to the White House. Otherwise it would appear as if Ambassador Lodge was promoting his own son to a Little Cabinet post.

Whose Ox Is Gored

Senator "Long Jim" Murray of Montana has written a letter to Howard C. Porter, President of the Billings, Mont. Chamber of Commerce, acknowledging Porter's letter opposing aid to education.

"However," replied Senator Murray, "on March 25 and again on April 9 you, as president of a business college, asked me to liberalize this same education bill so it would extend to private business schools.

"Your various positions on this issue reminds me of testimony delivered by the National Chamber of Commerce in hearings held recently by my education subcommittee," said the Senator from Montana. "The Chamber witnesses testified against subsidities for school construction, but admitted that the Chamber of Commerce works for subsidies for various business interests."

It's hot. The body sizzles. The mind melts. . .

At this time of year, not too long ago, Admiral Richard Evelyn Byrd was near the South Pole. He was alone. The sun had sunk below the horizon in April. The admiral was in perpetual night. The wind came out of the north as though it would never tire. It carried snow across the Ross Barrier on a long slant.

Byrd saw nothing. Nothing moved. To keep alive, he kept busy. He signalled his fellow explorers daily. He observed. And he wrote his observations with stiff fingers. The temperature outside his igloo was 72 degrees below zero. He lit an oil stove and the air in the flue pipe hissed out into the night like a steam exhaust.

The body functions slowed. So did the mind. The admiral tried to repair a thermograph. It was a simple job. He agonized over it for hours. Sometimes he called the Little America Camp and it required a lot of thinking to find out what to say.

On some nights, there was action. The aurora overhead fed his eyes with silent fireworks. Below, the earth trembled as a billion tons of ice dropped perhaps five feet. It was an effort to look; to listen; to lie numbly in a fur coat and wait for sleep to come.

His tongue swelled from drinking hot tea. His nose ached from frostbite. He fell exhausted from carrying water onto his roof to seal the seams of ice from the danger of a threatening storm. In bed, the admiral was reading, and one finger froze from trying to turn the pages of a book.

When the storm came, Byrd kept busy digging an escape tunnel under his igloo. Outside, the ice looked like a polished ballroom floor, stretching off in all directions. In a moment, it disappeared. A white mist of snow fled across the ice floor before the wind. He hurried inside, sealed his door, and sat waiting.

There was a small scraping sound outside, like a terrified mouse caught in a cardboard carton. Then the wind moaned and cried and sang in the night and the earth shifted a little and the gale seemed to be trying to suck the big stove pipe out of the igloo. The candle flames bent, flickered red, and died. He lit a storm lamp.

The admiral waited. He wasn't an admiral now. He was a man who was filled with wonder and fear. He waited for hours, and went up through the trapdoor to read the instruments. The hurricane wind of the Antarctic met him like the thunder of surf. It tried to blow him off the roof. He clutched ice and held on. It was the blackest night he ever knew. His searchlight could not light his other hand.

His nostrils refused to breathe. The lungs seemed to burst into flame. The gale split itself on the radio wire overhead. In the dark storm there was bass thunder and high treble. Thousands of tiny snowflakes, frozen as hard as steel, stung his eyes shut.

The admiral staggered back through the trap door. He dug the frost out of his nose and mouth and fell trying to catch a breath of air. He waited awhile, and went out into the night again. This time, when he came back, the trap door had frozen shut.

He clawed at it. He tried to lift it. He beat it with his fists. He cried aloud in the night. He pulled at the door edges with his mittens. Reason walked out of his mind. Panic walked in. Once, the admiral laughed. He had dug a tunnel inside so that he could not be trapped inside; here he was trapped outside.

Admiral Richard Byrd was 24 inches from warmth and safety. He found a ventilator and pressed his mouth against it and breathed the warm zero air coming up from inside. He pressed an eye to the ventilator and saw, below, the feeble light of a storm lantern.

His brain began to function. He remembered a shovel he had left to leeward. Byrd grasped the ventilator in both mittens, and kicked his feet out all around the igloo. When he found the handle of the shovel he wanted to kiss it.

His hands dug it out of the snow and he inched back to the trapdoor and chopped the seams free. He heaved the door open, and fell down to safety.

As I say, it is hot. The body sizzles. The mind melts. . .

Abuses Hurting Labor Unions

With Congress showing weakness in dealing with the problem of corrupt and arrogant labor leadership, with Teamster President James Hoffa engaged in organizing a super-union of transport workers potentially able to dominate business and the government, and with the automotive industry uncertain about the terms on which it can produce next year's cars . . . there is rising concern about the problem of controlling organized labor that is affecting more than the arch-conservatives.

Labor mediators, educators, liberal intellectuals and others are disturbed about the abuses of organized labor's power.

Clark Kerr, president of the University of California, expresses fear that the unions may be taking too much freedom from the workers.

Kermit Eby, professor of social sciences at the University of Chicago and a former CIO researcher, asserts: "Unions are failing at the point of the strongest claim for their existence: respect for human dignity."

Roscoe Pound, former Harvard Law School dean, found unions have immunities to "commit wrongs to person and property, to interfere with the use of highways, to break contracts, to deprive individuals of the means of earning a living, to control activities of individual workers and their local organizations by national organizations centrally and arbitrarily administered beyond the reach of state laws, and to misuse trust funds."

Unions are no longer weak, idealistic groups. They collect $620 million a year in dues, have pension funds running into billions. They are not entitled to immunities under the law.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Passport Question

Again, we come to the question of definition: what is a passport? Is it a card of introduction or identification? Is it a statement of national affiliation? Is it an assertion of protection?

The passport has never been a card of identification until the United States Supreme Court withheld from the Government of the United States the authority to decide to whom such a document would be granted. It was then that President Eisenhower called upon Congress to pass an act giving the Secretary of State "clear statutory authority to prevent Americans from using passports for travel to areas where there is no means of protecting them, or where their presence would conflict with our foreign-policy objectives or be inimical to the security of the United States."

Having lived in Asia many years, the passport to me has come to mean a document of protection. In fact, without it, one could not live anywhere except in a few Treaty Ports in China and even there, it was dangerous to be without such a document.

The Supreme Court's concern with the passport arises out of the Communist cases. The State Department had been withholding passports from certain Americans on the ground that it was against the interest of the Government that they should travel abroad. Some of them were suspected of being spies. Espionage is difficult to prove according to the rules of evidence. The FBI may have an enormous mass of material on a man or a woman but little of it would stand up in a court of law because the witnesses would have to be spies or former spies and their testimony in a court would imperil them. Some of the information comes from other governments and cannot be used. Some of it comes from sources which are perhaps themselves illegal, such as intercepting telephone calls or surveillances of the work of unfriendly governments.

The data has been screened and checked but if the matter has to be considered in the open court, much of it must be withheld. As Robert Johnson of the Passport Office said, even if the State Department knew that an American Communist planned to go to Moscow and to take with him important American defense secrets for delivery to Communist espionage officials, a passport could not be denied him under current Supreme Court decisions.

The Supreme Court, in the case of Rockwell Kent and Walter Briehl, held that Communism is a matter of belief and association. The court said:

". . . They are being denied their freedom of movement solely because of their refusal to be subjected to inquiry into their beliefs and associations. They do not seek to escape the law nor to violate it . . ."

This is after the Hiss Case and the Rosenberg Case, the Fuchs espionage, the cold war, and everything else that is current history. The court held that the State Department could only withhold passports in cases involving allegiance and in those involving criminal activity. Unless a spy has been caught, tried and convicted, he is not legally a spy, no matter what information the State Department, the FBI and the CIA may have and he is entitled to a passport. This applies to Communists who may be members of the propaganda divisions of the Communist Party and who may be going abroad to do harm to the United States. The State Department is precluded from going into motives and personal histories and is limited to court decisions.

That is now the law of the land and will remain the law unless Congress passes another act to give the State Department authority over passport control or until another court comes into existence.

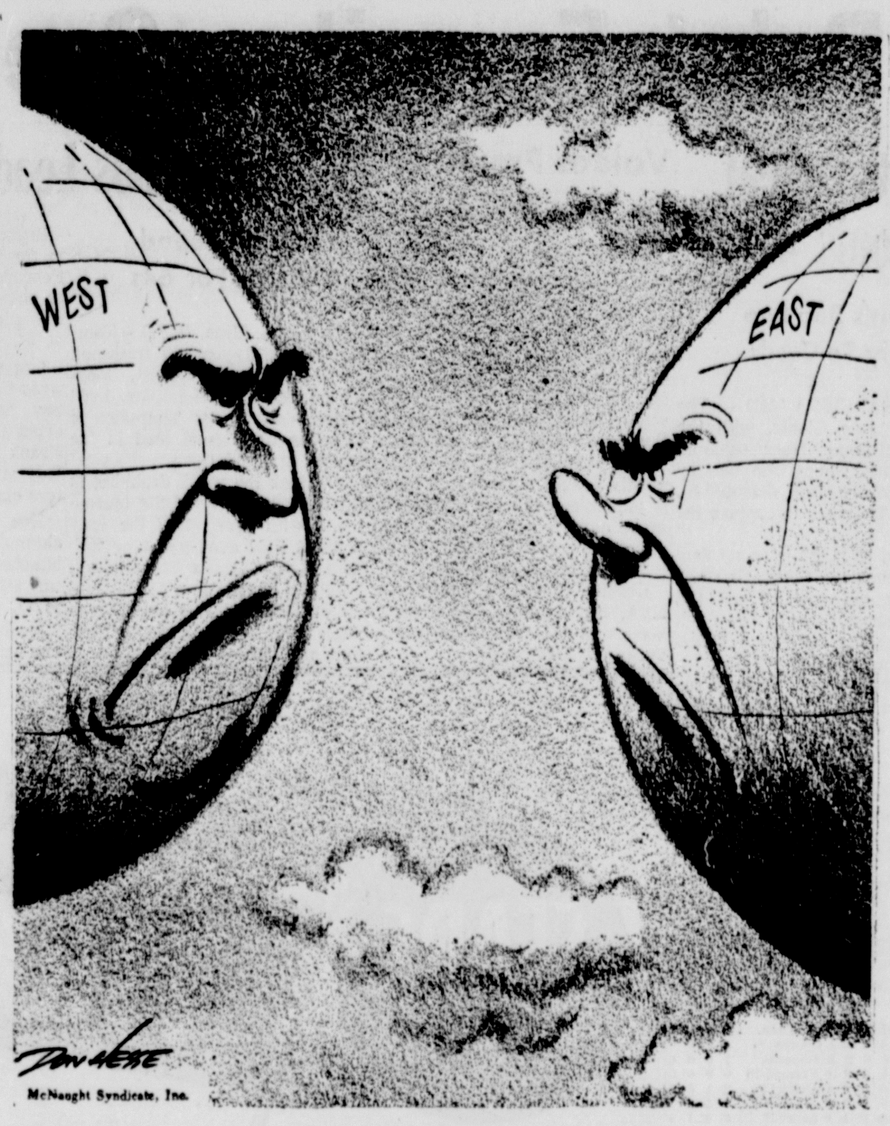

The minority of the present court said:

". . . In a wholly realistic sense there is no peace today, and there was no peace in 1952. At both times the state of national emergency declared by the President in 1950, wherein he stated that 'world conquest by Communist imperialism is the goal of the forces of aggression that have been loosed upon the world' and that 'the increasing menace of the forces of Communist aggression requires that the national defense of the United States be strengthened as speedily as possible,' was in full effect . . ."

Of course, the Supreme Court may choose to ignore a Presidential proclamation, but the court is bound by a Constitutional Act of Congress.

The Critics And America's Internal Disunity

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Critics of American foreign policy, both inside and outside of the Democratic-controlled Congress, are having a hard time being specific. They generally bemoan what seems to them a lack of "positiveness," and they even blame the President and the Secretary of State for not having a secret microphone in the Kremlin to get minute-by-minute reports of what an erratic Khrushchev plans to do throughout the world.

The tendency after every crisis is to complain either that the "intelligence" reports of the United States were not adequate or timely, or that the United States has failed homehow to checkmate Soviet moves in the world.

Partisan politics and the hope for some advantageous issue from a political standpoint undoubtedly are back of most of the criticism, especially the mimeographed speeches and statements that flow from certain quarters in and around the Democratic membership of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. The doctrine that "partisanship ends at the water's edge," an American tradition, seems to have been replaced by an attitude which says, in effect, that any criticism of the United States — even if the Soviets pick it up for their own radio broadcasts — is good sniping in the game of politics-above-patriotism.

There are, of course, some critics, inside and outside Congress, who are not trying to be partisan at all but who find themselves baffled by world events to the point where they see only American surrender and appeasement as the way out. They mistakenly believe it will prevent American involvement in war, though history tells us a sure way to get into war is to emphasize constantly your own weakness and lack of resoluteness.

The main criticism seems to center on the charge that the United States should have foreseen the way things have shaped up in the Middle East. Just how is never made clear. But the idea most widely advertised is that the United States should have taken Nasser unto its bosom and loaned him billions for the Aswan Dam, even though he indicated clearly beforehand that he intended to seize the Suez Canal and secretly got arms from the Soviets.

Sometimes it is argued by the hindsight critics that the Western Allies never should have allowed the state of Israel to be created in the first place. This is a favorite gripe, particularly among some people who want to continue to do business with the Arab countries and feel that it is expedient to apologize constantly for America's interest in Israel.

There never seems to be any inclination to search the real estate titles in the Middle East and to go back far enough to discover that the people of Israel may possibly have lived there long before the modern Arab monarchies or colonies came into being. World War I took most of Asia Minor away from Turkey and enabled some new republics and monarchies among the Arabs to start up in business. But simultaneously Israel's right to existence as the Palestinian homeland was recognized in public declarations made by the Foreign Secretary of Great Britain and by the President of the United States.

The issue today isn't Israel, or Arabian supremacy, or "colonialism," handy as it may be to toss slogans around that reflect the prejudices of the interested parties. The real issue in the world today is the same as it was before World War I and before World War II. It's whether a single power — an authoritarian government and dictatorship — shall threaten the peaceful life of the free democracies or true republics of our times.

Most of the international mischief perpetrated in the Middle East, the Far East, and inside Europe, Africa and North and South America — usually called "subversion" or "infiltration" — can be traced to an espionage apparatus of worldwide proportions financed and directed by the evil men in the Kremlin.

Some of the critics want a blueprint or an affidavit to this effect signed by Khrushchev before they'll believe it, although the intelligence reports are overwhelming. Some gullible critics still doubt that Iraq or Lebanon have been victimized by the Soviet spy rings. They call it just 'a people's uprising" when the king and his family are murdered and their bodies mutilated. What kind of "Arab nationalism" is it that not only assassinates kings and prime ministers but also drags through the streets the bodies of Americans deliberately removed from their hotel and killed? Wouldn't this be more realistically described as "Arab barbarism"?

There is only one way to keep the peace in the world It would have saved us participation in two world wars. It's to build militarily a strong alliance with Western nations that believe as we do, to say again and again that force will be used to secure respect for our rights, and to mean it.

That's the only "positive policy" America can pursue — to be ready to go to the "brink of war" and let the world know it. But such a policy cannot succeed if there's internal disunity and if kibitzers deride firmness as "brinkmanship" and thus weaken the hand of their own government. Criticism is helpful always when it is constructive, and there isn't any difficulty recognizing when it is and when it isn't. Unity inside the United States and inside the Western Alliance is worth as much militarily as many divisions of troops.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Been looking into the Runyon expense account at the Democratic convention in San Francisco, B. G. Before Giants.

It is a little late for Pegler to investigate this 1920 swindlesheet. The total amount was two smackers for about three weeks.

I made a mistake citing it as walk-about money. Damon had it listed as going-about. It couldn't have meant his business at those prices.

He didn't drink so the tab must have been for the elixir of Coffee Dan's after midnight. He was good for 20 cups.

So the two dollars didn't go any further than a watchman on a wharf.

How far could you go about? It wouldn't even be ladder money in a pueblo.

And Pueblo was Damon's home town around 1900. That's when he went to Denver which was Gene Fowler's home town.

And between them I founded the historic Rufftown where canary birds sang bass.

Ragweed, Grass Pollen, Bug Dust And Hayfever

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

If you have hay fever, there may be some consolation in knowing that you are not alone. Between 7 and 8 million persons are in the same boat, and ragweed is the culprit at this time of year.

It takes time to become sensitive to pollen. One or more seasons of exposure will be needed. As a result, the disease never occurs during the first year of life but is most common in childhood and early adulthood.

In addition, several seasons pass before hay fever reaches its maximum intensity. During this time, symptoms are mistaken for a summer cold. If the condition is neglected, many hay fever sufferers develop asthma as an extra dividend.

It is reasonable to assume that hay fever is becoming more prevalent. First, because there is a strong hereditary tendency toward this disorder, we are becoming a nation of allergic individuals. Second, ragweed was not common in our original forests but flourished as land was cleared and cultivated. It is becoming prevalent in areas regarded as hay fever resorts half a century ago.

Ragweed is the No. 1 cause of hay fever today. Grass pollen is next, followed by insect dust from the soil. Each handful of soil contains thousands of disintegrated insects.

The pollen count is a good index of the concentration in the air. The hay fever sessions vary from year to year, depending upon the ragweed crop. The seeds flourish in warm wet weather and burn up when it is dry and hot. On the other hand, the count is highest during pollination when we have ample sunshine, warmth, and strong winds.

Pollen may be blown from fields 100 miles away. A good rain clears the air, which means the concentartion of the granules is lowest following a storm.

Hay fever sufferers are interested in the pollen count even though it is 24 hours old. But they don't need to see it in black and white, because a high concentration brings itching of the nose and eyes, stuffiness of the nostrils, and increased sneezing and tearing. It becomes more and more difficult to read, work, and carry on ordinary activities.

NECK LUMPS

REPLY

You are responsible for your children's health, so stop taking advice from amateurs and see your physician. There is less chance than one in 100 million that both youngsters have leukemia but why lose sleep over something that can be settled in a jiffy?

TALL GIRL

A. L. writes: My 10 year old daughter is the tallest girl in her class. If she continues at this rate, she is going to be a giant. Can anything be done?

If anything need be done, take her to an endocrinologist. He may be able to determine whether she has reached her full growth by X-raying the long bones. If she shows a potential for further growth, he may recommend hormones to curb her excessive height.

The hurricane wind of the Antarctic met him like the thunder of surf. It tried to blow him off the roof. He clutched ice and held on. It was the blackest night he ever knew. His searchlight could not light his other hand.

His nostrils refused to breathe. The lungs seemed to burst into flame. The gale split itself on the radio wire overhead. In the dark storm there was bass thunder and high treble. Thousands of tiny snowflakes, frozen as hard as steel, stung his eyes shut.

The admiral staggered back through the trap door. He dug the frost out of his nose and mouth and fell trying to catch a breath of air. He waited awhile, and went out into the night again. This time, when he came back, the trap door had frozen shut.

He clawed at it. He tried to lift it. He beat it with his fists. He cried aloud in the night. He pulled at the door edges with his mittens. Reason walked out of his mind. Panic walked in. Once, the admiral laughed. He had dug a tunnel inside so that he could not be trapped inside; here he was trapped outside.

Admiral Richard Byrd was 24 inches from warmth and safety. He found a ventilator and pressed his mouth against it and breathed the warm zero air coming up from inside. He pressed an eye to the ventilator and saw, below, the feeble light of a storm lantern.

His brain began to function. He remembered a shovel he had left to leeward. Byrd grasped the ventilator in both mittens, and kicked his feet out all around the igloo. When he found the handle of the shovel he wanted to kiss it.

His hands dug it out of the snow and he inched back to the trapdoor and chopped the seams free. He heaved the door open, and fell down to safety.

As I say, it is hot. The body sizzles. The mind melts. . .

Detroit Lions Are 20-Point Favorites Over Collegians

Grid Teams Play Tonight At Chicago

Pros Have Copped 16 Out Of 24 Games From All-Stars

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Detroit Lions were 20-point favorites Thursday to whip the College All-Stars Friday in what might become the most open game in the history of the annual battle.

Otto Graham, head coach of the collegians, promised that his team would run a "pro" offense. He spent most of training camp time in teaching his squad of 51 a wide open aerial game. To make the attack work, he'll rely on quarterbacks King Hill of Rice and Jim Ninowski of Michigan State.

Lions Never Beaten

Detroit, never beaten, but once tied in three previous All-Star appearances, also has a pair of notable flingers in Bobby Layne and Tobin Rote, as well as adept receivers.

The Lions will be going against a well known attack, since Graham was the star quarterback of the Cleveland Browns before he joined the All-Star staff for the first time last year, and the All-Stars will be using virtually the same offense the Browns had in the past.

The Browns attack, though, has been no problem to Detroit. In seven games between the clubs, Detroit won six and Cleveland scored more than 16 points in only one contest. The same Lions who will play Friday humbled Cleveland, 59-14, in last year's National Football League championship contest.

Graham, though he gives his squad "a chance" to win, wasn't optimistic, since he would have liked more time to prepare his team, and he found that the group wasn't as deep in quality as some previous All-Star squads.

1957 Team Better

"Last year's team was a better one than this," he said. "I would have been glad to take last year's team into the National League and we would have finished one, two or three. We couldn't do that this year."

The pros have won 16 of the previous 24 games, the All-Stars have taken seven and one has been tied. Friday's contest will begin at 8:30 p.m. (c.d.t.) and will be both broadcast and televised nationally.

EIGHTEEN YEARS OF KNOW-HOW—Head Coach George Wilson (right), of the Detroit Lions, talks strategy with his two star quarterbacks, Tobin Rote (left) and Bobby Layne who, together, have had 18 years of professional grid experience. Layne is in his 11th season and Rote in his ninth.

Joey Scores 7th Win With Spahn's Help In Ninth

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Joey Jay yielded only one hit — a sixth-inning single by Jerry Lynch — Thursday night as he spoiled Jimmy Dykes managerial debut by pitching the Milwaukee Braves to a 3-0 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs.

The victory increased the Braves' first-place lead over the idle second-place Pittsburgh Pirates to six games.

Jay, first "little leaguer" to make the big leagues, won his seventh game for the Braves, although he was lifted in favor of Warren Spahn when he issued his eighth walk to lead off the ninth inning. Spahn retired the three batters he faced to give the Braves their 11th victory in 14 meetings with the Redlegs this season.

Bill Bruton sent the Braves off in front in the first inning with a homer and they made the score 2-0 in the second when Wes Covington tripled and tallied when Eddie Miksis' relay throw to third was wild.

Roy McMillan's two - base throwing error and a single by Del Crandall produced the Braves' final run in the eighth.

Making his first start since pulling a muscle in his pitching elbow July 29, Jay kept himself in mild trouble by walking the Cincinnati man in six different innings.

The win pushed Jay's record to 7-4 and left him with a 1.81 ERA.

Mistakes Count Most

COOKEVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Oregon State football coach Tommy Prothro says he is convinced the team that capitalizes on its opponents' mistakes wins the majority of games.

Prothro told Tennessee high school coaches at a clinic here that he recently completed a study of the films of 100 college games. Here's what he found:

"I learned the team that passed for the most yardage won 58 per cent of the games. The team that gained most on the ground won about 60 per cent of the games, and the team that piled up the most yardage won 63 per cent. But I also learned that the teams with the best record in recovering fumbles, intercepted passes and blocked kicks won 92 per cent of the games."

Moon's Boo Boo Costly To Cards

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants, with the help of fireman Marv Grissom and a base-running boo boo by Cardinal Wally Moon, defeated St. Louis 4-3 Thursday to capture the series 2-1.

A crowd of 14,837 in sunny Seal Stadium saw the Cardinals stage a ninth-inning uprising but fall one run short because Moon fell down rounding third on a bases-loaded single by Curt Flood.

Gene Green scored the third run and Moon was right behind him when he apparently tripped over his own feet. He got back to third ahead of Felipe Alou's throw from center field and was left there when Gene Freese grounded out to end the game.

Willie Mays, getting his second in two days and 19th of the year, homered in the eighth. Daryl Spencer hit his 13th four bagger of the year in the seventh.

Lefty Johnny Antonelli gave up seven hits in recording his 13th victory.

Valdes Promises To Stop DeJohn

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — Nino Valdes, the lumbering Cuban who has disappointed his supporters as often as he has pleased them, promised Thursday to knock out Mike DeJohn of Syracuse "in four or five rounds" in their television 10-round rematch Friday at Rochester's War Memorial Arena.

The 210-pound Valdes speaks mostly Spanish but made it clearly understood that he intended to make quick work of DeJohn and pave the way for a shot at the heavyweight boxing crown.

DeJohn, ranked seventh by the NBA, lost a hairline decision to Valdes in their first meeting in Syracuse last April.

Hebert, Jacobs Lead In St. Paul Open Golf

Fire First Round 8-Under-Par 64s

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) —Tommy Jacobs, 23-year-old freshman pro, and Lionel Hebert, long-hitting 1957 PGA champion, fired eight-under-par 64s Thursday to take the first round lead in the $25,000 St. Paul Open.

Par took the worst drubbing in the 25-year history of the tournament, with nearly half the star-studded field even par over Keller's Golf Course's 72 standard.

Jacobs banged in a 17-foot putt on the 462-yard 18th hole for an eagle three. Both Jacobs and Hebert had nines of 33-31.

Hebert, whose last victory was in the Tucson, Ariz., open last February, had eight birdies and 10 pars. His older brother, Jay, was grouped with several players at 66.

One shot out of the lead at 65 were Cary Middlecoff, a pre-tourney favorite, Sam Snead, the event's all - time money winner, Frank Stranahan, a former amateur star star, and former Masters champion Doug Ford.

Ken Venturi, the defending champion, was one of the players bunched at 66, six-under par. Venturi strolled around in even nines of 33.

In the 66 bracket were PGA champion Dow Finsterwald, Art Wall Jr., Bob Rosburg, Bob Crow, a Twin-Cities pro making his only appearance on the PGA tour, Mike Souchak, 1957 St. Paul titlist, Julius Boros, a former National Open champ, Joe Zakarion and Henry Ransom.

Gene Littler and Arnold Palmer topped a group tied at 67. Palmer faded to a 36 on the back nine after getting a 31, one over the record, on the front side.

Moon's Boo Boo Costly To Cards

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants, with the help of fireman Marv Grissom and a base-running boo boo by Cardinal Wally Moon, defeated St. Louis 4-3 Thursday to capture the series 2-1.

A crowd of 14,837 in sunny Seal Stadium saw the Cardinals stage a ninth-inning uprising but fall one run short because Moon fell down rounding third on a bases-loaded single by Curt Flood.

Gene Green scored the third run and Moon was right behind him when he apparently tripped over his own feet. He got back to third ahead of Felipe Alou's throw from center field and was left there when Gene Freese grounded out to end the game.

Willie Mays, getting his second in two days and 19th of the year, homered in the eighth. Daryl Spencer hit his 13th four bagger of the year in the seventh.

Lefty Johnny Antonelli gave up seven hits in recording his 13th victory.

Valdes Promises To Stop DeJohn

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — Nino Valdes, the lumbering Cuban who has disappointed his supporters as often as he has pleased them, promised Thursday to knock out Mike DeJohn of Syracuse "in four or five rounds" in their television 10-round rematch Friday at Rochester's War Memorial Arena.

The 210-pound Valdes speaks mostly Spanish but made it clearly understood that he intended to make quick work of DeJohn and pave the way for a shot at the heavyweight boxing crown.

DeJohn, ranked seventh by the NBA, lost a hairline decision to Valdes in their first meeting in Syracuse last April.

Hebert, Jacobs Lead In St. Paul Open Golf

Fire First Round 8-Under-Par 64s

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) —Tommy Jacobs, 23-year-old freshman pro, and Lionel Hebert, long-hitting 1957 PGA champion, fired eight-under-par 64s Thursday to take the first round lead in the $25,000 St. Paul Open.

Par took the worst drubbing in the 25-year history of the tournament, with nearly half the star-studded field even par over Keller's Golf Course's 72 standard.

Jacobs banged in a 17-foot putt on the 462-yard 18th hole for an eagle three. Both Jacobs and Hebert had nines of 33-31.

Hebert, whose last victory was in the Tucson, Ariz., open last February, had eight birdies and 10 pars. His older brother, Jay, was grouped with several players at 66.

One shot out of the lead at 65 were Cary Middlecoff, a pre-tourney favorite, Sam Snead, the event's all - time money winner, Frank Stranahan, a former amateur star star, and former Masters champion Doug Ford.

Ken Venturi, the defending champion, was one of the players bunched at 66, six-under par. Venturi strolled around in even nines of 33.

In the 66 bracket were PGA champion Dow Finsterwald, Art Wall Jr., Bob Rosburg, Bob Crow, a Twin-Cities pro making his only appearance on the PGA tour, Mike Souchak, 1957 St. Paul titlist, Julius Boros, a former National Open champ, Joe Zakarion and Henry Ransom.

Gene Littler and Arnold Palmer topped a group tied at 67. Palmer faded to a 36 on the back nine after getting a 31, one over the record, on the front side.

Birdie Tebbetts Resigns As Manager At Cincinnati

Jimmy Dykes Takes Charge; Stanky Is No. 1 Possibility

By BILL HENRY
United Press International

Birdie Tebbetts — Jimmy Dykes

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—Cincinnati Redleg manager Birdie Tebbetts, who only two days ago was rumored to be on the firing block, Thursday unexpectedly resigned and was temporarily replaced by coach Jimmy Dykes.

The balding manager, fourth major league pilot to leave his job this season, announced his resignation at a hastily-called noon press conference at club headquarters. Previously, Jack Tighe of Detroit, Bobby Bragan of Cleveland and Mayo Smith of Philadelphia, have been fired.

General Manager Gabe Paul said Dykes, who formerly managed the Chicago White Sox from 1934-1943, would run the team until he could talk with club owner Powell Crosley, now cruising off the Alaskan coast.

Tebbetts' quitting immediately gave rise to speculation as to who would take over the squad. Eight names popped into consideration.

May Hire Stanky

Eddie Stanky, former New York Giant great and later manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, was considered the No. 1 possibility by Cincinnati baseball writers. Others mentioned were Pee Wee Reese, Los Angeles Dodgers; Jim Turner, New York Yankee pitching coach; Frank McCormick, former Cincinnati first baseman; Dick Sisler, manager of the Redlegs Nashville club of the Southern Association; Johnny (double no-hit) Vander Meer, manager of the Palatka, Fla., team, and former major league managers Mayo Smith and Marty Marion.

Tebbetts' resignation was triggered by the play of his club, which has lost nine of its last 10 games and is in the National League cellar, 13 and a half games behind front running Milwaukee.

The former major league catcher, who starred with Detroit, Boston and Cleveland in the American League, took over the Cincinnati reins in 1954, succeeding Rogers Hornsby.

He lifted the club into the National League first division in 1956 for the first time since 1944. The team finished third that year only two games back of pennant-winning Brooklyn and tied the all-time major league home run mark of 211 in one season.

Pitching Inept

Last year Cincinnati, hindered all season by an inept pitching staff, slid back to fourth place, winning 80 and losing 74.

The death knell sounded for Tebbetts Wednesday night as the Milwaukee Braves, took a doubleheader, 9-2 and 4-2.

"I had a meeting with Gabe Paul last night after the Milwaukee games and again this morning," Tebbetts said. "This was not an easy decision to make, because I have always felt a manager should never quit."

Paul made it clear that Tebbetts was not forced to quit or be fired.

"Birdie was not fired," he told newsmen, "he resigned."

White Sox Hurler Masters A's, 5-2

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ray Moore scattered five hits Thursday for his ninth victory of the season and his fourth straight to boost the Chicago White Sox to a 5-2 win over the Kansas City Athletics to retain sole possession of second place in the American League.

The big right hander held the A's hitless through the first four innings before giving up a single to Harry Chiti. He was nicked for a run in the eighth when he walked Whitey Herzog and Hector Lopez doubled. Frank House got a pinch homer in the ninth.

The White Sox staked Moore to a run in the first on Luis Aparicio's double off starter Bud Daley to extend his hitting streak to 12 games. Aparicio advanced on an infield out and scored when Daley uncorked his first of two wild pitches.

The Sox batted nine men for four runs in the sixth to finish Daley with his second loss in four decisions. A walk to Al Smith and singles by Billy Goodman and Ron Jackson brought in one run. Two more runs scored on Bubba Phillips' single off Murry Dickson and Aparicio singled to drive in Phillips. Reliever Dick Tomanek was needed to get the side out.

A's Ronnie Isner Halts Senators, 1-0, In Dan Loop Upset

Manager Bob Ziler's Athletics pulled a surprise yesterday by upsetting the Senators in a Dan Division (Dapper Dan Little League) game at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 1-0.

Ronnie Isner snapped the Senators' six-game winning streak by tossing a five-hitter for his fourth win against a single loss. He struck out seven.

The Senators had beaten the A's by scores of 7-6 and 24-4 in the first two games of their series.

Isner's single, an infield out and Gary Leasure's base wallop produced the game's lone tally in the second inning.

John Roy, Senators' hurler, yielded only three hits, fanned ten and collected two of the losers' five blows. His record now is 3-3.

The Senators wound up their schedule with a 9-6 record. The Athletics are now 6-6 with three games left to play. Score:

Plion Is Winner With Hartack Up At Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 14 (AP) — Jockey Bill Hartack who has a monopoly on winning the feature races at Atlantic City race course continued that streak at the seashore course today when he drove Edward Potter, Jr.'s Plion to a nose victory in the Dennis Purse. This was Plion's first venture over the grass and his mile effort was made in 1.41 1-5 over a soft course.

Hartack rode a cautious race and during the stretch run went to left handed whipping when Plion either tried to lug in or began to loaf. It was Bohemia Stable's Handshake who was the most persistent competitor and Plion had him as a running mate all through the stretch. Third in the field of seven was Colonial Farms' Fairfield with John Taxim's Palisade 2nd, finishing fourth.

The favorite players were a minority group until the feature and the victory by Plion gave most of the 18,711 fans something to cheer about. They backed him to 1-2 and he returned $3.00, $2.60 and $2.40.

Birdie Tebbetts Resigns As Manager At Cincinnati

Jimmy Dykes Takes Charge; Stanky Is No. 1 Possibility

By BILL HENRY
United Press International

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—Cincinnati Redleg manager Birdie Tebbetts, who only two days ago was rumored to be on the firing block, Thursday unexpectedly resigned and was temporarily replaced by coach Jimmy Dykes.

The balding manager, fourth major league pilot to leave his job this season, announced his resignation at a hastily-called noon press conference at club headquarters. Previously, Jack Tighe of Detroit, Bobby Bragan of Cleveland and Mayo Smith of Philadelphia, have been fired.

General Manager Gabe Paul said Dykes, who formerly managed the Chicago White Sox from 1934-1943, would run the team until he could talk with club owner Powell Crosley, now cruising off the Alaskan coast.

Tebbetts' quitting immediately gave rise to speculation as to who would take over the squad. Eight names popped into consideration.

May Hire Stanky

Eddie Stanky, former New York Giant great and later manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, was considered the No. 1 possibility by Cincinnati baseball writers. Others mentioned were Pee Wee Reese, Los Angeles Dodgers; Jim Turner, New York Yankee pitching coach; Frank McCormick, former Cincinnati first baseman; Dick Sisler, manager of the Redlegs Nashville club of the Southern Association; Johnny (double no-hit) Vander Meer, manager of the Palatka, Fla., team, and former major league managers Mayo Smith and Marty Marion.

Tebbetts' resignation was triggered by the play of his club, which has lost nine of its last 10 games and is in the National League cellar, 13 and a half games behind front running Milwaukee.

The former major league catcher, who starred with Detroit, Boston and Cleveland in the American League, took over the Cincinnati reins in 1954, succeeding Rogers Hornsby.

He lifted the club into the National League first division in 1956 for the first time since 1944. The team finished third that year only two games back of pennant-winning Brooklyn and tied the all-time major league home run mark of 211 in one season.

Pitching Inept

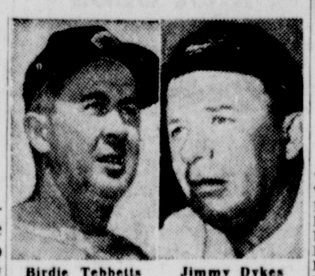

Last year Cincinnati, hindered all season by an inept pitching staff, slid back to fourth place, winning 80 and losing 74.

The death knell sounded for Tebbetts Wednesday night as the Milwaukee Braves, took a doubleheader, 9-2 and 4-2.

"I had a meeting with Gabe Paul last night after the Milwaukee games and again this morning," Tebbetts said. "This was not an easy decision to make, because I have always felt a manager should never quit."

Paul made it clear that Tebbetts was not forced to quit or be fired.

"Birdie was not fired," he told newsmen, "he resigned."

White Sox Hurler Masters A's, 5-2

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ray Moore scattered five hits Thursday for his ninth victory of the season and his fourth straight to boost the Chicago White Sox to a 5-2 win over the Kansas City Athletics to retain sole possession of second place in the American League.

The big right hander held the A's hitless through the first four innings before giving up a single to Harry Chiti. He was nicked for a run in the eighth when he walked Whitey Herzog and Hector Lopez doubled. Frank House got a pinch homer in the ninth.

The White Sox staked Moore to a run in the first on Luis Aparicio's double off starter Bud Daley to extend his hitting streak to 12 games. Aparicio advanced on an infield out and scored when Daley uncorked his first of two wild pitches.

The Sox batted nine men for four runs in the sixth to finish Daley with his second loss in four decisions. A walk to Al Smith and singles by Billy Goodman and Ron Jackson brought in one run. Two more runs scored on Bubba Phillips' single off Murry Dickson and Aparicio singled to drive in Phillips. Reliever Dick Tomanek was needed to get the side out.

The defeat dropped the Elks 1½ games behind the first place V.F.W. tossers and shaved their lead to one game over the third place Knights of Columbus who battled to a 10-inning 4-4 draw with Pittsburgh Plate Glass at Fort Hill Field.

By winning yesterday's game the Moose squared their series with the Elks at 2-2.

Webb Hull notched his 6th win of the campaign while Dick Klavuhn absorbed his fifth loss against 14 wins.

Pete Cecil paced the Moose at the plate with a homer and two singles and Jim Fradiska garnered a pair of one-base knocks. "Whip" Kreitzburg had two hits and Price homered for the Elks in the 7th.

Al Sheetz went the route for the Knights and "Bud" Law and Bill Thompson worked on the hillock for the Glassmen in the overtime battle at Fort Hill Field.

Manager Bob Ziler's Athletics pulled a surprise yesterday by upsetting the Senators in a Dan Division (Dapper Dan Little League) game at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 1-0.

The Senators had beaten the A's by scores of 7-6 and 24-4 in the first two games of their series.

Isner's single, an infield out and Gary Leasure's base wallop produced the game's lone tally in the second inning.

John Roy, Senators' hurler, yielded only three hits, fanned ten and collected two of the losers' five blows. His record now is 3-3.

Plion Is Winner With Hartack Up At Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 14 (AP) — Jockey Bill Hartack who has a monopoly on winning the feature races at Atlantic City race course continued that streak at the seashore course today when he drove Edward Potter, Jr.'s Plion to a nose victory in the Dennis Purse. This was Plion's first venture over the grass and his mile effort was made in 1.41 1-5 over a soft course.

Hartack rode a cautious race and during the stretch run went to left handed whipping when Plion either tried to lug in or began to loaf. It was Bohemia Stable's Handshake who was the most persistent competitor and Plion had him as a running mate all through the stretch. Third in the field of seven was Colonial Farms' Fairfield with John Taxim's Palisade 2nd, finishing fourth.

The favorite players were a minority group until the feature and the victory by Plion gave most of the 18,711 fans something to cheer about. They backed him to 1-2 and he returned $3.00, $2.60 and $2.40.

Red Sanders, 53, UCLA Coach, Suffers Fatal Heart Attack

Dies At Hotel In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Henry Red Sanders, UCLA head coach and acknowledged as one of the nation's top collegiate football tacticians, suffered a fatal heart attack Thursday in a downtown hotel room. He was 53.

Red Sanders

Sanders, who came to UCLA from Vanderbilt in 1949 to compile one of the most impressive football records in modern annals, died in the hotel room of William T. Pop Grimes, identified by police as an old friend.

Also present, according to Grimes, was an attractive woman identified as Ernestine Drake, Los Angeles, about 30. Grimes told police that she was a friend of his.

Grimes told Detective Sgt. Robert Reid that Sanders had been in his room for "about 10 to 15 minutes" talking "baseball and the upcoming football season" when he complained of the heat.

No Heart Record

Friends said he had visited his office on the UCLA campus earlier in the day "and looked to be in perfect health." They said he had no record of a heart condition.

"About 3:30 p.m. Red complained of the heat, removed his coat and asked for something to drink," Grimes said in recapping Sanders' death.

"I went downstairs to get some soft drinks and as I walked back into the room Red keeled over," he said.

Grimes, who police said was in his 70s and identified himself as a "former hotel owner," then called the manager of the Lafayette Hotel. He in turn asked reservation clerk Charles Musgrove to call a doctor.

"I had a terrible time trying to get a doctor," Musgrove told the United Press International. "I must have called a half a dozen of them. I even called the county medical association and got a 15-minute runaround from them.

Police Respond

"I finally called Central Receiving Hospital and a policeman and an ambulance came a few minutes later. It must have been 4 p. m. by then.

"But it was way too late. They had their stethescopes out but couldn't get a heart beat."

Sanders led UCLA to its greatest football triumphs. His all-time coaching record at UCLA, for his nine years at the Westwood school, was 66 victories, 19 losses and 1 tie.

He reached the pinnacle of football success at UCLA in 1954 when the Bruins gave the USC Trojans a 34-0 locking to wind up the Bruins' first undefeated and untied season.

Mantle Tossed Out By Ump As Yanks Win, 8-2

Kucks Is Victor Over Boston Sox

BOSTON (UPI) — Mickey Mantle was tossed out of the game for arguing a called third strike but Tony Kubek and Hank Bauer took up the slack for the Yankee slugger to lead New York to an 8-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox Thursday.

The Yankees pounded out 12 hits for 19 bases while Duke Maas and Johnny Kucks two-platooned it on the mound for the league leaders, holding the Red Sox to eight hits.

Kucks, now 8-5, was the winner issuing four hits over the last six innings.

Mantle was thumbed out by plate Umpire Jim Honochick in the fourth inning, with New York leading 7-2. The blonde switch-hitter, who had made an error in the third inning to let in a Boston run, finally walked to the dugout.

But as he reached the bottom of the dugout stairs he threw first his bat half way to the third-base line and then his protective helmet. He was ejected immediately. It was the second time Mantle had been thrown out of a game this season, both times in the last week.

Kubek doubled twice and singled in four trips, driving in one run. Bauer had a double and his sixth triple of the year to account for one RBI.

Ted Williams collected a pair of two-baggers to pace the Red Sox, who used four pitchers in a vain effort to stop the Yankee tide. Dave Sisler, shelled out in the three-run Yankee first, was the loser.

Power Steals Home Twice As Cleveland Wins, 10-9

Second Theft Beats Detroit In Tenth, Hangs Up AL Record

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Vic Power stole home with the bases loaded in the 10th inning Thursday, his second steal of home in the game, to give the Cleveland Indians a dramatic 10-9 victory over the Detroit Tigers that ended a five-game losing streak.

Power's theft, with a 2-1 count on Rocky Colavito, also ended a Detroit five-game winning streak.

Power, who had stolen home in an eighth-inning rally that produced five Cleveland runs, just beat Frank Lary's pitch to catcher Charlie Lau.

Power thus became the first player in American League history to steal home twice in one game—a feat which eluded even the immortal Ty Cobb. It's been done only twice before in the major leagues, both times by National Leaguers — Joe Tinker of the Chicago Cubs on June 28, 1910 and Larry Doyle of the New York Giants on Sept. 18, 1911.

Lary, who suffered his 11th loss against 11 victories, was the fifth Tiger pitcher. He came on in the ninth after the Tigers had tied the score at 9-9.

Colavito homered twice, smashing No. 25 of the year with no one on in the sixth and leading off in the eighth with No. 26, a new season high for him.

Colavito's second blast was off Tom Morgan, who also served up a two-run homer to pinch - hitter Vic Wertz in the same frame.

It was the first homer of the year for Wertz, who had batted only eight previous times since recovering from a broken ankle.

Winning pitcher in the wild contest was rookie Gary Bell, who was a loser less than 24 hours before in the first game of a Wednesday twi-night double-header. Bell came on in the ninth to retire the side after the Tigers had tied the score.

Midland nosed out Barton, 5-4, at Barton, and Westernport forfeited to Zihlman yesterday to throw the Twilight Baseball League race into a three-way tie for first place.

Midland, Westernport and Barton are now deadlocked for the lead with 19-6 records.

Only seven Westernport players put in their appearance for the game at Zihlman.

George Winters registered his sixth win of the campaign as Midland rallied for four runs in the top of the 7th inning to come from behind and win at Barton. Billy "Gas House" Johnson was tagged with his third loss against six wins.

Tommy Dunn collected two of Midland's eight hits. Woody Symons collected a double and two singles in three trips and Johnny Johnson and Ellis Fazenbaker had two hits each for Barton. One of Johnson's blows was a three-bagger.

Gordon Oester's two-run homer in the third inning decided the issue. Rice yielded only two hits, singles by Markley and Lewis. Scores:

Snider Clouts Record Homer Against Cubs

Drysdale Connects As Dodgers Win, 7-3

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles pulled into a virtual sixth-place tie with Chicago Thursday by beating the Cubs, 7-3, before a drop-in-the-bucket crowd of 6,195, the smallest of the year at the Coliseum.

The Dodgers now trail the Cubs by only two percentage points.

Duke Snider hit one of the longest home runs ever seen here, a 430-foot drive that cleared the fence in dead center field. Snider, the only man to turn this trick, hit a similar home run last month. He now has 11

Don Drysdale, the winning pitcher, later hit one of the shortest homers ever seen here. It was a line drive that bounced off the metal bar running across the left field screen and then fell into the seats 50-feet away. Gil Hodges scored ahead of Drysdale.

The towering Los Angeles right-hander was pulled in the eighth inning but picked up his seventh victory. He has lost 11. The Cubs tagged Drysdale and three other pitchers for nine hits but stranded 11 men.

Red Sanders, 53, UCLA Coach, Suffers Fatal Heart Attack

Dies At Hotel In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Henry Red Sanders, UCLA head coach and acknowledged as one of the nation's top collegiate football tacticians, suffered a fatal heart attack Thursday in a downtown hotel room. He was 53.

Red Sanders

Sanders, who came to UCLA from Vanderbilt in 1949 to compile one of the most impressive football records in modern annals, died in the hotel room of William T. Pop Grimes, identified by police as an old friend.

Also present, according to Grimes, was an attractive woman identified as Ernestine Drake, Los Angeles, about 30. Grimes told police that she was a friend of his.

Grimes told Detective Sgt. Robert Reid that Sanders had been in his room for "about 10 to 15 minutes" talking "baseball and the upcoming football season" when he complained of the heat.

No Heart Record

Friends said he had visited his office on the UCLA campus earlier in the day "and looked to be in perfect health." They said he had no record of a heart condition.

"About 3:30 p.m. Red complained of the heat, removed his coat and asked for something to drink," Grimes said in recapping Sanders' death.

"I went downstairs to get some soft drinks and as I walked back into the room Red keeled over," he said.

Grimes, who police said was in his 70s and identified himself as a "former hotel owner," then called the manager of the Lafayette Hotel. He in turn asked reservation clerk Charles Musgrove to call a doctor.

"I had a terrible time trying to get a doctor," Musgrove told the United Press International. "I must have called a half a dozen of them. I even called the county medical association and got a 15-minute runaround from them.

Police Respond

"I finally called Central Receiving Hospital and a policeman and an ambulance came a few minutes later. It must have been 4 p. m. by then.

"But it was way too late. They had their stethescopes out but couldn't get a heart beat."

Sanders led UCLA to its greatest football triumphs. His all-time coaching record at UCLA, for his nine years at the Westwood school, was 66 victories, 19 losses and 1 tie.

He reached the pinnacle of football success at UCLA in 1954 when the Bruins gave the USC Trojans a 34-0 locking to wind up the Bruins' first undefeated and untied season.

Mantle Tossed Out By Ump As Yanks Win, 8-2

Kucks Is Victor Over Boston Sox

BOSTON (UPI) — Mickey Mantle was tossed out of the game for arguing a called third strike but Tony Kubek and Hank Bauer took up the slack for the Yankee slugger to lead New York to an 8-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox Thursday.

The Yankees pounded out 12 hits for 19 bases while Duke Maas and Johnny Kucks two-plattooned it on the mound for the league leaders, holding the Red Sox to eight hits.

Kucks, now 8-5, was the winner issuing four hits over the last six innings.

Mantle was thumbed out by plate Umpire Jim Honochick in the fourth inning, with New York leading 7-2. The blonde switch-hitter, who had made an error in the third inning to let in a Boston run, finally walked to the dugout.

But as he reached the bottom of the dugout stairs he threw first his bat half way to the third-base line and then his protective helmet. He was ejected immediately. It was the second time Mantle had been thrown out of a game this season, both times in the last week.

Kubek doubled twice and singled in four trips, driving in one run. Bauer had a double and his sixth triple of the year to account for one RBI.

Ted Williams collected a pair of two-baggers to pace the Red Sox, who used four pitchers in a vain effort to stop the Yankee tide. Dave Sisler, shelled out in the three-run Yankee first, was the loser.

Power Steals Home Twice As Cleveland Wins, 10-9

Second Theft Beats Detroit In Tenth, Hangs Up AL Record

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Vic Power stole home with the bases loaded in the 10th inning Thursday, his second steal of home in the game, to give the Cleveland Indians a dramatic 10-9 victory over the Detroit Tigers that ended a five-game losing streak.

Power's theft, with a 2-1 count on Rocky Colavito, also ended a Detroit five-game winning streak.

Colavito homered twice, smashing No. 25 of the year with no one on in the sixth and leading off in the eighth with No. 26, a new season high for him.

Colavito's second blast was off Tom Morgan, who also served up a two-run homer to pinch - hitter Vic Wertz in the same frame.

It was the first homer of the year for Wertz, who had batted only eight previous times since recovering from a broken ankle.

Winning pitcher in the wild contest was rookie Gary Bell, who was a loser less than 24 hours before in the first game of a Wednesday twi-night double-header. Bell came on in the ninth to retire the side after the Tigers had tied the score.

Midland Tops Barton, 5-4

Three Tie For Lead In Twilight League

Midland nosed out Barton, 5-4, at Barton, and Westernport forfeited to Zihlman yesterday to throw the Twilight Baseball League race into a three-way tie for first place.

Midland, Westernport and Barton are now deadlocked for the lead with 19-6 records.

Only seven Westernport players put in their appearance for the game at Zihlman.

George Winters registered his sixth win of the campaign as Midland rallied for four runs in the top of the 7th inning to come from behind and win at Barton. Billy "Gas House" Johnson was tagged with his third loss against six wins.

Tommy Dunn collected two of Midland's eight hits. Woody Symons collected a double and two singles in three trips and Johnny Johnson and Ellis Fazenbaker had two hits each for Barton. One of Johnson's blows was a three-bagger.

Ronnie Rice hurled Finzel to a 3-1 decision over Cumberland in a game played at Taylor Field. Darkness halted hostilities after five innings of play was completed.

Gordon Oester's two-run homer in the third inning decided the issue. Rice yielded only two hits, singles by Markley and Lewis. Scores:

Midland	010	000	4—	5 8 0
Barton	002	010	1—	4 9 0

G. Winters and G. Miller, B. Johnson, G. Fazenbaker (7) and E. Warnick. LP—B. Johnson.

Finzel	102	00—	3	5 0
Cumberland	100	00—	1	2 0

Rice and Williams, Williams and Lewis. HR—G. Oester (Finzel).

Zihlman won over Westernport by forfeit when latter was unable to field team.

Lonaconing won by forfeit from Wright's Crossing.

Snider Clouts Record Homer Against Cubs

Drysdale Connects As Dodgers Win, 7-3

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles pulled into a virtual sixth-place tie with Chicago Thursday by beating the Cubs, 7-3, before a drop-in-the-bucket crowd of 6,195, the smallest of the year at the Coliseum.

The Dodgers now trail the Cubs by only two percentage points.

Duke Snider hit one of the longest home runs ever seen here, a 430-foot drive that cleared the fence in dead center field. Snider, the only man to turn this trick, hit a similar home run last month. He now has 11.

Don Drysdale, the winning pitcher, later hit one of the shortest homers ever seen here. It was a line drive that bounced off the metal bar running across the left field screen and then fell into the seats 50-feet away. Gil Hodges scored ahead of Drysdale.

The towering Los Angeles right-hander was pulled in the eighth inning but picked up his seventh victory. He has lost 11. The Cubs tagged Drysdale and three other pitchers for nine hits but stranded 11 men.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Double	Redouble	Pass
Pass	2 hearts	2 spades	Pass
4 spades	Double	Pass	Pass
Pass

Opening lead: Heart king.

At contract bridge, playing by ear involves the drawing of inferences from what one has heard during the auction. The call of an adversary will not infrequently place to a certainty the location of a particular card. Today's hand offered South an opportunity for delicate technique.

South opened with one spade and West doubled to show his powerful holding. North held adequate values for his redouble. This was routinely passed back to West who had a comfortable rescue to two hearts. North now offered a free raise which promoted South's minimum holding to 16 points (one point is added for the fifth spade and two for the sixth), sufficient for a game bid. West doubled in the hope of increasing the revenue and the bidding subsided.

The heart king was opened, South won in dummy and ruffed the remaining heart in his hand. After drawing two trumps, declarer had to decide which suit to develop.

Instinctively, one would lean toward the clubs, but West's actions in the bidding minimize the chances of East's holding a club honor. He surely does not hold both the king and queen, so declarer can see that his contract is cinched by playing a low diamond to his ten.

West will win with the queen and will be faced with a choice of sour apples. He can play ace and another diamond, in which case declarer returns to the dummy with a trump and passes the club jack, forcing West to resign. If West, on winning with the diamond queen, exits with the club king, declarer wins and returns a club, establishing the 13th in his own hand for a diamond discard.

If declarer attacks clubs first, West can defeat the contract by playing A-Q of diamonds, praying for East to hold the jack.

If it's been some time since you've baked a cake from "scratch," you'd be wise to review some of the basic mixing rules.

One of the most fundamental, for example, applies to the creaming of butter and sugar—first step in making a good butter cake.

Creaming in this sense means to mix the butter and sugar with a wooden spoon or your electric mixer until ingredients are thoroughly blended. The consistency should be almost like heavy whipped cream in texture. There should be no granules of sugar left in the mixture.

Asparagus Offers Many Surprises

Some of the wonders of summer are always expected, but manage to contain an element of pleasing surprise. This is especially true of vegetables arriving daily in ever increasing supply at local markets in the Northeast. Every day, it would seem, some new vegetable is added that had been gone from the scene for much too long.

Among the most welcome of all is asparagus. But the season for fresh asparagus is so short, you must hasten to eat your fill before it is over. This summer, you will be treated to asparagus of exceptionally fine quality, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture. However, total supplies will not be as plentiful as they might have been had the weather been more favorable.

You'll enjoy your asparagus most if you use it as quickly as possible, within a day or two after it's picked. Keep it cool until cooking time, preferably stored in a moisture-proof bag or container in the refrigerator. If you wash the stalks, dry them well before storing — moist asparagus has a short life.

Just before putting it in the pot, remove the tough woody portion of the stalk—it breaks just below the tender part. Be careful to remove all sand or dirt from under the scales. You may have to remove the scales if much dirt is embedded.

For most pleasing results in cooking asparagus, tie the stalks in a bunch and stand upright in a saucepan containing enough boiling salted water to cover the lower two-thirds. Cook uncovered until almost tender, then cover the saucepan and let the tips cook in steam until tender. Or, you can lay the bunch on its side and continue boiling until the tips are tender. From 5 to 12 minutes is usually adequate cooking time for asparagus.

Your family will enjoy this delicious Asparagus and Eggs casserole dish.

¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup flour
2 cups milk
1 cup grated cheese
¼ teaspoon salt
Pinch of pepper
2 cups cooked asparagus
8 hard-boiled eggs, sliced
½ cup bread cubes
3 tbs. melted butter or margarine

Melt ¼ cup butter in a saucepan, add flour and blend well. Stir in milk and cook over low heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Add grated cheese and salt and stir until cheese is melted. Place asparagus and sliced or halved eggs in a greased casserole dish. Pour on cheese sauce, then top with cubed bread. Brush melted butter over the bread cubes. Bake in a 375°F. oven for about 15 minutes, or until bread is toasted brown. Garnish with a sprig of parsley and serve hot. This recipe serves 4.

Grill trick: Shish-kebob vegetables will stay in place on the skewer better if small hollows are cut in each end.

Ginger-Pineapple Cream Fingers

12 ladyfingers
1 cup or 1 (No. 1 flat) can crushed pineapple, well drained
1 tablespoon finely chopped candied ginger
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
½ teaspoon vanilla extract

Fold pineapple, ginger, and vanilla extract into whipped cream. Split ladyfingers on bottom of a lightly buttered pan (10" x 6" x 1½"). Pour cream filling over ladyfingers. Place ladyfinger halves across the top of filling. Refrigerate for at least 3 hours before serving. To serve: Loosen from edge of pan and turn onto a platter.

Yield: 12 servings.

Summer Day Starter

Cool, enticing, and gently-flavored is this creamy avocado soup. Perfect for the first course at a salad luncheon or for a refreshing start to a buffet supper. With the soup for nibbling are crisp, seasoned shredded wheat biscuits. The biscuits are mixed with a herbed butter and are cooked just enough to flavor and brown softly.

Crisp Nibblers

- 5 tablespoons butter or margarine
- ¼ teaspoon celery seed
- ½ teaspoon onion salt
- ½ teaspoon basil
- few drops Worcestershire sauce
- 24 spoon-size shredded wheat biscuits

Melt butter or margarine. Mix celery seed, onion salt, basil together well. Stir seasoning and Worcestershire sauce into butter. Add cereal and mix lightly until shredded wheat biscuits are coated with mixture. Continue to cook, stirring occasionally, until biscuits are golden brown.

Cool Avocado Soup

- 4 tablespoons flour
- ¼ teaspoon onion salt
- ⅛ teaspoon chili powder
- 2⅔ cups chicken bouillion
- 2 ripe avocados
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- ⅔ cup light cream

Mix flour, onion salt, and chili powder together. Add a little chicken bouillon to form a thin paste. Stir flour mixture into rest of bouillon. Stir over heat until mixture comes to a boil. Remove from heat. Peel avocados. Cut off four slices for garnish. Mash rest of avocado through a sieve. Stir into chicken bouillon and lemon juice. Stir mixture over ice until very cold. Stir in cream. Pour into chilled cups and garnish with slice of avocado.

Triangular faces can be either heart- or pear-shaped. Here are the beauty principles for both!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

The Shape Of Your Face

If in testing your face shape with a 6"x9" picture frame you find that your forehead parallels the top in a broad line and, tapering rather sharply from your cheek bones, your chin points to the center of the lower section, you are the lucky possessor of a heart-shaped, triangular face. This is one of the most charming and attractive types.

However, if the heart-shape is too pronounced, you will gain in beauty by adapting the special techniques of highlight and shadow cosmetics to give more of the illusion of an oval. To accomplish this, apply a lighter foundation cream to the tip of your chin and along the lower edge of your jaw. Apply a darker shade of foundation cream over your forehead. Fill the inbetween area with a shade of foundation that approximates your natural complexion as closely as possible. The lighter shade on your chin and jaws will tend to make this area of your face seem larger. The darker shade on your forehead will make it appear smaller. Thus, you will be creating the illusion of a more balanced oval.

In using three foundations, it is iimportant not to have too sharp a distinction between the shades. Each must be lightly blended into the adjoining foundation. Your powder also must be applied with exquisite care. Pat it on. Do not fluff it. Use plenty of powder. Take care not to rub it into your foundation. Use a powder brush or fresh piece of cotton, stroking down from forehead to chin, with feather-light touch to remove excess.

If your forehead needs further minimizing, try a coiffure with a center part. Adroitly shaped bangs can also be used effectively for the same purpose. By fluffing your hair out around the lower part of your face, you will add to the appearance of width needed at your jaw line.

There is another type of triangular face, often spoken of as pear-shaped, with problems that are just the reverse. In this case, the face is broader at the jawline than at the cheekbones and even narrower at the forehead. To ovalize this triangle, the darker foundation is used on the outer edges of the jaw line only. The lighter foundation is used on the forehead and temples. For the pear-shaped triangular face a low side part is best, tending to give the forehead an impression of added width.

When you know what your beauty problem is — and know how to correct it, you no longer have an excuse for being less than attractive.

Coffee By The Roadside Means A Safer Vacation

When you set off on vacation, don't forget to take along some hot, fragrant coffee and quick, delicious snacks. You'll enjoy them by the roadside when you stop for a safety break!

How Americans love to travel! Come vacation-time, we just get in our cars and go. Whether it's a long trip or a short one, the whole family goes along to discover new and exciting places.

The fact is, however, that because Americans have the travel bug, driving anywhere today is increasingly hazardous. To drive safely in heavy traffic, you have to be on your toes and constantly alert. According to highway authorities, most of our automobile accidents are caused by fatigue and tension on the road. The remedy they say, is to stop frequently along the way—once every hour or so—for a cup of coffee. The coffee gives you a lift and perks you up for the drive ahead—and it also gives you a chance to stretch your legs and relax.

It's possible that there won't be too many coffee stands on the roads you travel this summer, so here's a suggestion for taking your coffee-break in the car with you. Simply fill a vacuum bottle with fragrant, hot coffee and jack it in the car on top of the rest of your belongings. Then, for a quick something to "go with," make up some special snacks before you leave home. Try these Roadside Snacks—they're baking powder biscuits, homemade or packaged, filled with two delicious mixtures. Then, whenever you feel like taking a break, pull over to the side of the road, pour your coffee and watch the other cars stream by! You'll be sure to have a happy—and very safe—vacation.

Roadside Snack

Split small baking powder biscuits, homemade or packaged, and fill with either of the following mixtures.

Peanut Filling

½ cup creamy peanut butter
1 tablespoon drained sweet pickle relish
1 teaspoon chili sauce
Few drops Tabasco

Cheese Filling

2 3-ounce cans mushrooms, sliced
salt, pepper, thyme

Mix together ground round steak, salt, pepper; divide into 4 portions; form into patties; brown in butter (do not cook through); reserve drippings.

Place one patty in center of each of four 18-inch squares heavy-duty foil; gather foil loosely around meat.

Top each patty with slices of tomato, potato, onion, ¼ package frozen mixed vegetables, ½ can sliced mushrooms.

Season with salt, pepper, thyme, pour 1 tablespoon drippings over top.

Close foil around food sack-fashion, allowing ends to flare out like a hobo's knapsack; place on baking sheet.

No Disaster Label For W.Va. Flood Area

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Gov. Cecil H. Underwood's request that flood-damaged Kanawha County be declared a major disaster area—eligible for emergency federal aid — was rejected by the federal government Thursday.

A White House spokesman said the decision was based on the fact that only a limited area was affected by the flash floods of last weekend.

While there will be no disaster declaration, Sen. Chapman Revercomb said he was informed that the services of every federal agency that could be useful in helping flood victims would be made available.

Union To Hold Annual Picnic

The annual all-day picnic of Local 2109, Communications Workers Union, will be held Saturday at the SS. Peter and Paul parish grounds on Mason Road. The picnic will be a family affair.

George Evans, picnic chairman, said approximately 400 are expected to attend and that there will be supervised recreation for children and adults under the supervision of Mrs. Dorothy Heavner, of the City Recreation Department staff.

Refreshments will be served and prizes awarded for games and contests, Evans stated. Music for dancing will be by Virgil Dean and his orchestra.

The picnic will also mark the 20th anniversary of the founding of the union, Evans said, adding that out-of-town guests will include William A. Walsh, District 2 director; Fred B. Waldeck, assistant director, and William K. Edwards, Maryland director, and their families.

Assisting with arrangements are Mrs. Janie Perdew, Mrs. Thomas Clay, Michael Lindner, Carlton Lapp, Thomas Connelley, William Partlow, John Brown and Charles Mower.

Recreation Center Membership Closed

Membership in the South Cumberland Recreation Center has been closed until further notice.

A spokesman for the group said approximately 150 youths have registered at the center, and its center is becoming too crowded.

The center will elect a youth council next Wednesday at 8 p. m., and will sponsor a dance Thursday night. A local orchestra will provide music.

Parents have been asked to volunteer to chaperone the dances.

Labor Council Celebration Set

A big Labor Day picnic and celebration will be sponsored by the Western Maryland Central Labor Council at Fairgo, according to Joseph V. Burke, associate director of the council's committee for political action.

The speaker will be Joseph D. Keenan, Washington, secretary-treasurer of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Keenan, an outstanding speaker, who has served in a number of federal appointive labor positions, has been representative of the United States at some international labor conferences.

He was formerly with the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor.

Graydon S. Dunlap, of Local 26, United Rubber Workers, will be chairman of the picnic, first of its kind in recent years.

Plans for the event were made Wednesday at a meeting of representatives of member unions of the Western Maryland Labor Council in Allegany Labor Temple.

Speaker following the picnic planning was W. F. Strong, president of the Maryland-D.C. Federation of Labor who spoke on political activity in the forthcoming campaign.

Youths To Attend Church Conference

Five young members of the Old Furnace Church of the Brethren will attend a National Youth Conference of the Church of the Brethren at Lake Janaluska, N. C., on August 25-29.

Union To Hold Annual Picnic

The annual all-day picnic of Local 2109, Communications Workers Union, will be held Saturday at the SS. Peter and Paul parish grounds on Mason Road. The picnic will be a family affair.

George Evans, picnic chairman, said approximately 400 are expected to attend and that there will be supervised recreation for children and adults under the supervision of Mrs. Dorothy Heavner, of the City Recreation Department staff.

Refreshments will be served and prizes awarded for games and contests, Evans stated. Music for dancing will be by Virgil Dean and his orchestra.

The picnic will also mark the 20th anniversary of the founding of the union, Evans said, adding that out-of-town guests will include William A. Walsh, District 2 director; Fred B. Waldeck, assistant director, and William K. Edwards, Maryland director, and their families.

Assisting with arrangements are Mrs. Janie Perdew, Mrs. Thomas Clay, Michael Lindner, Carlton Lapp, Thomas Connelley, William Partlow, John Brown and Charles Mower.

Recreation Center Membership Closed

Membership in the South Cumberland Recreation Center has been closed until further notice.

A spokesman for the group said approximately 150 youths have registered at the center, and its center is becoming too crowded.

The center will elect a youth council next Wednesday at 8 p. m., and will sponsor a dance Thursday night. A local orchestra will provide music.

Parents have been asked to volunteer to chaperone the dances.

Labor Council Celebration Set

A big Labor Day picnic and celebration will be sponsored by the Western Maryland Central Labor Council at Fairgo, according to Joseph V. Burke, associate director of the council's committee for political action.

The speaker will be Joseph D. Keenan, Washington, secretary-treasurer of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Keenan, an outstanding speaker, who has served in a number of federal appointive labor positions, has been representative of the United States at some international labor conferences.

He was formerly with the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor.

Graydon S. Dunlap, of Local 26, United Rubber Workers, will be chairman of the picnic, first of its kind in recent years.

Plans for the event were made Wednesday at a meeting of representatives of member unions of the Western Maryland Labor Council in Allegany Labor Temple.

Speaker following the picnic planning was W. F. Strong, president of the Maryland-D.C. Federation of Labor who spoke on political activity in the forthcoming campaign.

Youths To Attend Church Conference

Five young members of the Old Furnace Church of the Brethren will attend a National Youth Conference of the Church of the Brethren at Lake Janaluska, N. C., on August 25-29.

They are Gail Ellifritz, Judy Whitacre, William Manning, William Hinkle and Raymond Abe.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

While Louella O. Parsons is in Hawaii her column will be written by Dorothy Manners

HOLLYWOOD — British Claire Bloom cables Louella from London that she has signed for the film version of John Osborne's stage hit, "Look Back in Anger."

"Mary Ure, who played the role of the wife on Broadway, plays the same role in the film, and I play Helene, the other top feminine part," Claire states. "Richard Burton is the man in our lives. Of course you know that Mary Ure is John Osborne's wife in private life."

She goes on to say that she is winding up her stage appearance with Vivien Leigh in "Duel of Angels" the latter part of this month. "Our picture starts shooting at Elstree studio, just outside London, the second week in September. Warners are releasing."

Jack Warner's personal attorney Arnold Grant, accompanied by Jack's stepdaughter, Joy Orr, quietly left Monday night for his bedside in Cap D'Antibe. Executives at the Warner studio seem to be in the dark about Jack's real condition. But Grant's trip could be a hopeful sign that he has improved to the point of discussing any reverberations of his serious accident.

A friend of mine who saw the wreckage of Jack's car soon after the crash writes, "It's almost unbelievable that he escaped with his life. His sportscar was pulverized"

Montgomery Clift, talking to Myrna Loy between scenes of "Lonelyhearts," told her that he has his heart set on directing a picture next year.

"Would you star in it, too?" Myrna asked her co-star.

"Are you kidding," quipped Monty, "as a director I simply wouldn't put up with all that nonsense from me."

P.S.: Producer Dore Schary is getting no nonsense out of Clift, either. Being an ever lovin' doll.

What a happy surprise for Leslie Caron (hope she doesn't read this in London). Cecil Beaton will completely redecorate the nursery for her second baby during the time Leslie's in the hospital. It's not every baby that first sees the light of day in a room created by the one and only Beaton, whose decor for "Gigi" and "My Fair Lady" is so knocked out.

Leslie (Mrs. Peter Hall) expects the baby in October and the Halls have moved from their London apartment to a house in the country to await the happy event. She's recently completed "The doctor's Dilemma" for MGM.

They're still sticking up Las Vegas, on the screen, that is. John Carroll signed with Albert C. Gannaway to star in "Blueprint For Crime" playing the mastermind of a daring robbery in Las Vegas in which the gang escapes with a boodle. This is not to be confused in any way with real life in which the boode seems permanently glued to the cashiers.

Carroll makes his second starring appearance for Gannaway in this thriller. He recently completed "Gun in the Dust" for him.

Anne Baxter went directly to San Francisco on her return from Europe expecting to spend some time there with daughter Katrina. She was going to buy a car and motor home to Beverly Hills.

But Joan Fontaine's sudden illness brought Anne planing in to take Joan's place in the Lux Theatre of TV Drama. "The Four." Sounds like something was left off that title — but that's it. Anne, thinner than she's ever been, looks great these days and she's glad to be home.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

While Louella O. Parsons is in Hawaii her column will be written by Dorothy Manners

HOLLYWOOD — British Claire Bloom cables Louella from London that she has signed for the film version of John Osborne's stage hit, "Look Back in Anger."

"Mary Ure, who played the role of the wife on Broadway, plays the same role in the film, and I play Helene, the other top feminine part," Claire states. "Richard Burton is the man in our lives. Of course you know that Mary Ure is John Osborne's wife in private life."

She goes on to say that she is winding up her stage appearance with Vivien Leigh in "Duel of Angels" the latter part of this month. "Our picture starts shooting at Elstree studio, just outside London, the second week in September. Warners are releasing."

Jack Warner's personal attorney Arnold Grant, accompanied by Jack's stepdaughter, Joy Orr, quietly left Monday night for his bedside in Cap D'Antibe. Executives at the Warner studio seem to be in the dark about Jack's real condition. But Grant's trip could be a hopeful sign that he has improved to the point of discussing any reverberations of his serious accident.

A friend of mine who saw the wreckage of Jack's car soon after the crash writes, "It's almost unbelievable that he escaped with his life. His sportscar was pulverized"

Montgomery Clift, talking to Myrna Loy between scenes of "Lonelyhearts," told her that he has his heart set on directing a picture next year.

"Would you star in it, too?" Myrna asked her co-star.

"Are you kidding," quipped Monty, "as a director I simply wouldn't put up with all that nonsense from me."

P.S.: Producer Dore Schary is getting no nonsense out of Clift, either. Being an ever lovin' doll.

What a happy surprise for Leslie Caron (hope she doesn't read this in London). Cecil Beaton will completely redecorate the nursery for her second baby during the time Leslie's in the hospital. It's not every baby that first sees the light of day in a room created by the one and only Beaton, whose decor for "Gigi" and "My Fair Lady" is so knocked out.

Leslie (Mrs. Peter Hall) expects the baby in October and the Halls have moved from their London apartment to a house in the country to await the happy event. She's recently completed "The doctor's Dilemma" for MGM.

They're still sticking up Las Vegas, on the screen, that is. John Carroll signed with Albert C. Gannaway to star in "Blueprint For Crime" playing the mastermind of a daring robbery in Las Vegas in which the gang escapes with a boodle. This is not to be confused in any way with real life in which the boode seems permanently glued to the cashiers.

Carroll makes his second starring appearance for Gannaway in this thriller. He recently completed "Gun in the Dust" for him.

Anne Baxter went directly to San Francisco on her return from Europe expecting to spend some time there with daughter Katrina. She was going to buy a car and motor home to Beverly Hills.

But Joan Fontaine's sudden illness brought Anne planing in to take Joan's place in the Lux Theatre of TV Drama, "The Four." Sounds like something was left off that title — but that's it. Anne, thinner than she's ever been, looks great these days and she's glad to be home.

Louis Shinnamon Jr., Cash Valley Road, an Allegany High School student, also will show his Angus cattle. Two Mineral County Angus breeders, W. G. Merrells and Clyde Bonar, both of Burlington, will exhibit again this year as usual.

Boyd T. Whittle, extension livestock specialist at the University of Maryland, will judge the Angus entries, starting at 9 a. m. Tuesday.

There will be no competition in the two other beef cattle breeds, Hereford and Shorthorn, but both will be exhibited. John Bowers of Fort Ashby, W. Va., who showed Herefords at Fairgo in 1956, will make a reappearance this year. For the first time in years there will be an exhibit of Shorthorns, to be shown by James Swisher of Levels, W. Va. Mr. Whittle also will grade the Herefords and Shorthorns.

Judging at 9 a. m. Tuesday also is scheduled for the Jerseys, one of four dairy breeds to be shown. Two Washington County neighbors, George Stiles and Braden King, both of Boonsboro, will show Jerseys. They have exhibited at Fairgo for a number of years. A. L. O'Brien of Manns Choice, Pa., will judge the Jerseys.

Mr. Saacke will judge Ayrshire dairy cattle starting at 1 p. m. Tuesday. Showing Ayrshires will be William I. Shank, Hagerstown, and Samuel Diehl, Bedford, Pa.

Late Judging.

Six head of beef cattle and nearly 70 head of dairy cattle will be shown by members of the 4-H clubs, according to Assistant County Agent James B. Arnold. Angus cattle among 4-H'ers will be shown by Louis and Larry Shinnamon and Donna Davis of Midland. Wesley Gordon of Flintstone will show a Hereford calf. Mr. Whittle will judge them on Tuesday.

Poultrymen Get Choice Of Two Tours

Allegany County poultrymen are being sent a form letter requesting them to make a choice between suggested tours into Pennsylvania or Virginia.

Richard M. Stegmaier, Williams Road, is chairman of the county poultry committee which met Tuesday night in the office of County Agent Joseph M. Steger to discuss the poultry tour possibilities.

Attending that meeting with the committee was Wade H. Rice, poultry specialist at the University of Maryland, who has advised the group on previous tours which took them to the South Branch Valley of West Virginia and into Garrett County.

The choice being offered to county poultrymen is between a one-day trip to Chambersburg, Pa., area and a two-day visit to the Rockingham County, Va., area between Harrisonburg and Broadway.

On the Virginia trip, the poultrymen would see such attractions as feed mixing plants, broiler enterprises, egg hatcheries and research farms being conducted by feed manufacturers.

The poultrymen interested in taking either of the trips are requested to let Mr. Steger know about their choice not later than August 22.

Members of the poultry committee in addition to Mr. Stegmaier are Ralph W. Ferguson, Union Grove; Charles S. Harvey, Shaft; Wilbur Crabtree, Oldtown, and William Engle, Eckhart.

Boys Arrested In Auto Theft, Shoplifting

Two teen-age boys were arrested early yesterday morning in connection with the theft of an auto and the theft of cigarets and a necklace set from a local store.

Detective Lt. James E. Van said yesterday the boys were questioned and will be taken before Magistrate Fred Anderson in Juvenile Court. The boys, 16 and 17, were released in the custody of their parents pending the hearing.

Lt. Van said they were arrested yesterday morning about 4 o'clock by Officer Richard L. Maiers.

Police said the auto, belonging to Ralph Lybarger of LaVale, had been driven to a local garage lot to have some work done. The car was taken from the lot about 11:30 p. m. Wednesday.

The boys were reported to have taken a ride to the Cresaptown area and later decided to return the car. Officers Maiers spotted them as they drove the car back onto the lot and took them into custody.

City Dump Turns Down Dead Horses

Cumberland has another problem on its hands. A number of large dead animals — including horses and cows—have been hauled to the City Dump for disposal.

City Solicitor William Carscaden said anyone caught disposing of such animals at the dump will be prosecuted.

During the past three months, approximately six large animals have been left on the dump, in most cases during the night when the operator is not on duty.

The first part of this week a dead horse was dumped against the door of the incinerator, and as a result workmen were unable to get the tractor out of the incinerator garage to drag the horse away.

Mr. Carscaden said the "feed hole" to the incinerator is only 24 inches in diameter and was not intended for incinerating horses and cows.

His suggestion for getting rid of a large dead animal: dig a hole and bury it.

A pane of glass in a side window was broken, although nothing was taken. The entry was discovered about 7 a. m.

Lt. Van said an unsuccessful attempt was made to break into the Southern Feed Store on North Mechanic Street near the B&O viaduct early yesterday.

George Stevens, 340 Baltimore Avenue, told police someone removed three hubcaps from his car parked in front of his residence. He valued the hubcaps at $30.

Thomas W. Fahey Jr., 82, of 110 Seymour Street, died yesterday afternoon in Memorial Hospital of injuries suffered last Friday in a one-car crash three miles south of Ridgeley on West Virginia Route 28.

Poultrymen Get Choice Of Two Tours

Allegany County poultrymen are being sent a form letter requesting them to make a choice between suggested tours into Pennsylvania or Virginia.

Richard M. Stegmaier, Williams Road, is chairman of the county poultry committee which met Tuesday night in the office of County Agent Joseph M. Steger to discuss the poultry tour possibilities.

Attending that meeting with the committee was Wade H. Rice, poultry specialist at the University of Maryland, who has advised the group on previous tours which took them to the South Branch Valley of West Virginia and into Garrett County.

The choice being offered to county poultrymen is between a one-day trip to Chambersburg, Pa., area and a two-day visit to the Rockingham County, Va., area between Harrisonburg and Broadway.

On the Virginia trip, the poultrymen would see such attractions as feed mixing plants, broiler enterprises, egg hatcheries and research farms being conducted by feed manufacturers.

Police said the auto, belonging to Ralph Lybarger of LaVale, had been driven to a local garage lot to have some work done. The car was taken from the lot about 11:30 p. m. Wednesday.

The boys were reported to have taken a ride to the Cresaptown area and later decided to return the car. Officers Maiers spotted them as they drove the car back onto the lot and took them into custody.

City Dump Turns Down Dead Horses

Cumberland has another problem on its hands. A number of large dead animals — including horses and cows—have been hauled to the City Dump for disposal.

City Solicitor William Carscaden said anyone caught disposing of such animals at the dump will be prosecuted.

During the past three months, approximately six large animals have been left on the dump, in most cases during the night when the operator is not on duty.

The first part of this week a dead horse was dumped against the door of the incinerator, and as a result workmen were unable to get the tractor out of the incinerator garage to drag the horse away.

Mr. Carscaden said the "feed hole" to the incinerator is only 24 inches in diameter and was not intended for incinerating horses and cows.

His suggestion for getting rid of a large dead animal: dig a hole and bury it.
